FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The Inman steamship ETNA, Capt. McGuigan, which left Liverpool at 3 P. M. on the 6th and Queenstown on the 7th of January, arrived at this port yesterday.

The American advices excited but little attention and attracted but slight comment from the press.

The Times has published a letter from Mr. SPENCE reviewing the results of the American war. He admits that progress has been made within the past year especially; but is it proportionate to its cost? The North can no more continue to borrow 120,000,000 a year indefinitely than a man can continue to spend six times his income for ever. The drain of men, too, cannot be far from a dangerous point when it needs a bounty of £150 to obtain a recruit. That these things will have an end is clear enough. Again, in military affairs there is no computation by rule-of-three, because Tennessee has been crossed, a State in which the people were divided, and where rivers and railways assisted the invader, it does not follow that the same army will conquer Georgia under conditions wholly different. In the next campaign the Federals must fight without the support of gunboats or the aid of railways, and every further step must be made against a unanimous people. The real question is, not what has been done, but whether what remains can be accomplished before all the florid and swollen prosperity of the North can be smitten with a stroke of paralysis. None can war a war of invasion, costing $150,000,000 a year, without the financial machinery in good working order.

AMERICAN TOPICS.

THE NON-SUCCESS OF THE NORTH.

From the London Times, Jan. 5.

The American civil war has entered into the fourth year of its duration. So far, the predictions of European observers have been verified, and it now seems incomprehensible how American authorities could have taken such an inadequate measure of the calamity. Which side has suffered most in the conflict, or is at the present moment most capable of sustaining the terrible pressure on all the resources of the nation, is open to dispute; but that a pacific settlement of the quarrel is less possible now than in the first year of the war is certain. All the evidence compels us to assume that the struggle must continue. By the last intelligence we can, at least, form an estimate of how much of its avowed objects has been attained. The submission of the Southern Confederacy to the old central power of the Republic is the great end the war is to secure. The occupation or conquest of as much Southern territory as may compel that submission is the means by which the Federation is to reëstablish its authority. The abolition of Slavery was combined with the war as a "military measure" only, though it is now made to appear the principal motive of the hostilities. The war commenced in the summer of 1861. The campaigns and battles of 1862 and 1863 are now matters of history. At the opening of 1864, how much Southern territory has the Northern Federation gained, what has been the effect of that occupation on the policy of the Southern States, and what progress has been made in the abolition of Slavery?

The greatest success of the North was the capture of Vicksburgh, which, it was asserted, opened the whole course of the Mississippi, and divided the revolted States to the east and west of that river. Yet by the last accounts it is evident that the great river of the West is not "open" to navigation. The Federals hold New-Orleans, at the mouth of the Mississippi, and many other points in its course, but the stream is as much closed for traffic as when the Confederates garrisoned Vicksburg. Not a steamer can pass up or down without the risk of being attacked by the Southern guerrilla bands on both banks. The immense territory through which the river winds baffles all attempts to occupy it. The whole army of Gen. GRANT now concentrated in East Tennessee would not suffice to "command" the Mississippi and "keep its navigation open." For the greater part of its course it runs through a territory of which the people, as our correspondent says, are "bitterly hostile" to the Federals, and, as the actual consequence of such hostility, the river is closed. The same difficulty is encountered on the inland lines of communication. All the troops the North could raise would not be enough to fight and protect many hundreds of miles of railway at the same time. It would require 100,000 men to keep the single line from the Mississippi to Chattanooga in working order. The distances appear to baffle all military skill, and so diminish the value of a successful operation that it is followed by very slight results. A country may be too large for decisive war, and the waste of whole armies in America seems to prove the fact. NAPOLEON swept over everything between Paris and Vienna, but Spain and Russia defied him and exhausted his troops in a conflict with nature itself. Gen. GRANT is now contending with the same kind of difficulties, while the Southern forces appear to be rallying in his front and rear. It is evident that the Federal occupation of Eastern Tennessee, even if it can be maintained, will not bring the war nearer to a conclusion. In Virginia the Southerners have lost nothing in all the campaigns, and every attempt to penetrate their country in this direction has been defeated. The real task of the Army of the Potomac is to defend Washington, which has been as frequently in danger of capture during the war as Richmond. The siege of Charleston has failed, and the fleet of monitors has suffered so much damage during the operations that it cannot venture within range of the Confederate batteries. The blockade of the Southern coast does not deprive the people of an ample supply of imported articles, nor does the depreciation of their currency appear to disable them from purchasing. Goods to the value of a million dollars arrive in the port of Wilmington every four-and-twenty hours. The contraband trade must be profitable in spite of captures and inconvertible Southern notes. It seems also that the descriptions of suffering and want endured in the South, given in the Northern journals, have been grossly exaggerated. The general state of affairs of the Confederacy, and, what is more important, the feeling of the people, indicate both ability and determination to continue the struggle. They consider Mr. LINCOLN'S last Proclamation as a mere device to secure political support in the North. Its terms they regard with contempt. Time enough has now elapsed to test the effect of his first Proclamation in reference to Slavery. From Mr. LINCOLN'S message to Congress it appears that the total number of slaves the Federal armies have liberated is 100,000. This is the whole result of three years of war in the name of Abolition. And at an awful price it has been obtained. For every negro thus freed it is calculated that three white men have been killed in the contest. If the four millions of blacks are only to be emancipated at the same cost, the calculation becomes something terrible, and the feelings of humanity will be appealed to on behalf of the superior race. The worst evil that has grown out of the system of Slavery is the war carried on to extinguish it. To be successful, the conquest of the Southern territory must be complete, and, after all the waste of life and money, most of the task has still to be done. What has been effected in the work of Abolition is even less in proportion. The war has liberated one hundred thousand negroes, leaving the condition of millions of slaves unaltered. Can the most bigoted philanthropist assert that, as a war of emancipation, the conflict has been marked by success? Or, taking it as a war of conquest, has the North gained territory enough from the South to destroy its power of resistance and make its return to the Union inevitable? If either of the objects of the struggle had been obtained, the fourth year of the war would not have found these questions open and unanswered."

MR. BRIGHT AND THE CALIFORNIA PIRATE.

From the Birmingham Post.

Those of our readers who remember the bankruptcy of Mr. J. RUSSELL, will no doubt remember also that Mr. J. RUSSELL had a brother, younger than himself, who, being sent out to New-York to "settle accounts" with a Mr. HILL, wandered off to California with, it was stated, certain moneys in his possession. The young man was the subject of a great deal of discussion and evidence in the Bankruptcy Court, and if we remember rightly, the case was adjourned on more than once, for his production as a witness. He never came; but in his place HILL made his appearance, remarking, when asked what brought him here, "The steamship Europa." HILL, if our recollection serves us as it should do, stated that young RUSSELL had called on him, settled accounts, and set out for California. As to the "settling accounts" we know nothing; but it was agreed on all hands that California was the destination of Mr. J. RUSSELL'S brother. It now turns out that the young man has, through the influence of Mr. BRIGHT, M. P., narrowly escaped hanging. So far as we can make out, RUSSELL, (of California,) getting money somewhere, became part proprietor of a steamship, which set out from New-York with, as it was supposed, supplies for California. At all events, whether part proprietor or not, he was supercargo; and the "cargo" of which he was "super" seems to have consisted chiefly of arms and ammunition, with a good deal of quicksilver thrown in as "a blind." The real object of the journey, however, seems to have been a piratical one, the plan being to lie off San Francisco until an outward-bound gold vessel should fall into the clutches of the crew of the "supply" steamer, in which case there is little doubt that the crew of the gold vessel would have been murdered, and their cargo stolen. Two of RUSSELL'S sailors, however, got ashore, and divulged the whole business, whereupon the supply ship was seized, and RUSSELL and his companions were in imminent danger of being hanged, if, indeed, they were not already sentenced; we do not know how this was. This, however, is pretty certain: RUSSELL wrote home explaining that he had an objection to being hanged, but stating that he did not care much for a term of imprisonment, his apartments at the jail being the most comfortable he had occupied for some time past. As was natural, his friends here were greatly concerned; and, feeling that Mr. BRIGHT and Mr. COBDEN were about the only persons in this country who had influence enough in America to get a commutation of the young scapegrace's sentence, they applied to the friend of both gentlemen, Mr. CHARLES STURGE, Ex-Mayor of Birmingham. Mr. STURGE, a strong advocate for the abolition of capital punishment, at once wrote to Mr. BRIGHT, and Mr. BRIGHT at once communicated with the Federal Government at Washington. The result was a commutation of RUSSELL'S sentence to ten years' imprisonment and a fine of ten thousand dollars. Here Mr. STURGE'S efforts ended. The crime of which RUSSELL was convicted was, as he took it, a very serious one, and the only ground on which he had been induced to interest himself in the young man's behalf was his belief that capital punishment was simply judicial murder. Mrs. JOSEPH STURGE, however, together with certain members of the Society of Friends in Birmingham, looking at the young man's youth, his previous good conduct, and the influences by which he was surrounded, moved Mr. BRIGHT to obtain, if possible, a full pardon. Mr. BRIGHT, it would seem, complied with the request, and by the last mail, received a letter from a high authority in Washington—at all events such a letter has been communicated to RUSSELL'S friends—containing the following passage: "RUSSELL'S pardon will issue as soon as the papers can be prepared. There is much feeling in California against the crime of RUSSELL and his associates; but the Judge who tried him, and both Senators say, that everybody will be satisfied if it be known that Mr. BRIGHT, the good friend of our country, desired the pardon."

GREAT BRITAIN.

The weather in England and also on the Continent was very cold, and navigation at many of the Northern continental ports had been stopped by the intense frost.

The King of the Belgians was expected on a visit to Queen VICTORIA.

It is stated that HERNAN and KING and their seconds, notwithstanding the certiorari obtained to remove their case into the Court of Queen's Bench, had elected to be tried at the Sessions in the County of Sussex.

FRANCE.

In the Corps Legislatif on the 5th, several members brought forward amendments to the address expressing greater sympathy with Poland, and an opinion that it is expedient to recognize the Poles as belligerents.

The Paris Bourse on the 5th was dull, but pretty steady. Rentes closed at 66.75.

The report of the Committee upon the supplementary credits requested by the Government has been published. It concludes as follows:

"Our mission is to warn the Executive Power with affectionate respect and to hold it back upon the brink of dangerous entanglement. The best devotion is that which knows how to speak salutary truths in time of need. We are unanimous in advising that an end should be put to the Mexican expedition. Far be it from us to say at any price, but as the interest and honor of France will permit. The expression of this wish certainly responds to the general sentiment of the country, and we think the Government of the Emperor will receive it with favor."

The Committee unanimously propose the adoption of the bill.

THE ADDRESS OF THE CORPS LEGISLATIF.

PARIS, Monday evening.

The Corps Legislatif held a private sitting this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of hearing M DE MORNY, the President, read a draft of his address. The following is a translation of this document, which we are assured was "very favorably received" by the members present:

SIRE: The Corps Legislatif shares the confidence with which the renewal of its powers inspires you. Despite the animation of the struggle, the population has shown that it still remains profoundly devoted to the imperial institutions, to your person, and to your dynasty. In coming to take our part in the examination of public affairs we shall never lose sight of these principles and these sentiments, and we shall act in concert with you so as not to weaken them.

Your Majesty was right in preceding public opinion in the path of industrial and commercial liberty. France, which for a long time had doubted, has faith now in her own strength. Our industries have been able by their efforts and their sacrifices to meet foreign competition. They will display still greater activity when they see the means of transport multiplied and rendered more prompt and more easy. We trust, therefore, that the activity imparted to public works will not be diminished; that no delay will occur in the execution of the railways, and that the improvement of our ports, our rivers, our canals, our high roads, and especially of our local roads, will always be the object of the solicitude of your Government.

Our finances wisely husbanded, relieved from the exceptional circumstances which weigh upon them, will be sufficient to provide for all wants of the country without it being necessary to recur to public credit or to fresh taxation.

Your Majesty, whose liberal dispositions do not contradict themselves, again announces to us fresh reforms. We shall study those which will be submitted to us with the desire of seconding your love of real progress. Every measure, the object of which is to destroy the obstacles to the liberty of trade and to individual initiative; to settle in an equitable manner the relations between citizens placed in different positions on the labor question; and to increase the attributes of the communes and the departments without weakening the central power, will be welcomed by us with favor and gratitude.

We participate in the interest your Majesty feels for everything relating to religion, charity, the arts, letters and science. Primary instruction has rapidly developed since 1848. We think with you that the number of children who are still without it is too great; we hope to see it diminish every year, and finally disappear from our statistics, thanks to the increasing well-being of the population, having for complement the benefits of gratuitousness. We also hope that professional and agricultural instruction may be effectively encouraged, while the level of the studies giving access to the liberal careers is at the same time elevated. This system of uniformity should respond to the wants of families and to the aspirations of modern society by fortifying every career and by sparing youth frequent mistakes.

The Corps Legislatif thinks with you, Sire, that the most wisely governed nations cannot always hope to escape external complications, and that they ought to appreciate them without illusion and without weakness. The distant expeditions to China, Cochin China and Mexico, which have followed each other, have disturbed many minds in France, because of the obligations and the sacrifices they entail. We admit that they must inspire respect abroad for our countrymen and for the French flag, and that they may thus develop our maritime commerce, but we should be happy to see the good results your Majesty leads us to hope for speedily realized.

The recollections of our history, the sentiments of humanity that animates us, excite our warmest sympathies for the fate of the Poles. We have seen with regret that the combined efforts of the three great Powers have not succeeded in solving this grave question according to your benevolent intentions. We cannot forget, either, that the sincere and cordial support of Russia has more than once been useful to France on important occasions. We should regret if our good relations with that Power were to grow cool. We, therefore, welcomed with a profound satisfaction that noble idea of a European Congress, the initiative of which would have been an eternal honor to your reign. France, whose splendor and glory you have restored, is grateful to you, because you have not compromised her treasures and the blood of her children for causes in which neither her honor nor her interest are involved. Without regret let unjust prejudice receive with mistrust your loyal and pacific propositions. The noble and healthy ideas that God causes to arise in the heart of sovereigns for the welfare of humanity are making their way in the world, and taking root in the heart of the peoples. Wait with tranquility the effect of your generous words.

France, homogeneous, compact, certain of her strength, confident in you, fears no aggression; she has no other ambition now than that of assuring her repose, developing her material welfare by labor and peace, and her moral welfare by the sincere and gradual practice of civil and political liberties.

THE MEXICAN MONARCHY.

RUMORED "ARRANGEMENT" BETWEEN FRANCE AND THE UNITED STATES.

From the London Daily News, Jan. 4.

It is understood that the Archduke MAXIMILIAN and Archduchess CHARLOTTE are very shortly expected in Paris, to visit the Emperor and Empress of the French, on their way to St. Nazaire, where they will probably embark for Vera Cruz in an Austrian steam frigate, attended by a French steamer of war. Several circumstances, including more particularly the recent visit of Marshal FOREY to MIRAMON, are said to have determined his imperial highness to sail on his great adventure as Emperor of Mexico. The difficulties originally started by the Archduke were, it will be remembered, of two kinds. In the first place, he required certain securities against the contingent hostility of the United States; and in the second, he demanded evidence of his domestic security, if not in the result of a plébiscite, at least in a state of things which should assure him that he was not the mere catspaw of a partial military revolution.

On the former of these points, it is understood that the extraordinary mission of Marshal Forey to Washington had for its result an undertaking of the United States Government not to disturb the new Mexican monarchy; and in return for this assurance, it is believed that certain promises were made by France with regard to the attitude of that country toward the Confederate States. This assurance is thought to have served, to some extent, to satisfy the original requirements of the Arch-duke, as regards pledges of security against aggression from without. For, as it was only from the United States that hostility was to be apprehended, it was thought that the assurance of the Washington Government would be practically equivalent to a guarantee of support from Great Britain, which was originally suggested by the advisers of the Archduke.

On the latter point it has been, we believe, submitted to the Archduke that any nearer approximation to a popular vote among so scattered and ignorant a population as the Mexicans, than such as was to be obtained from a more or less general submission to the French army, was altogether impracticable. It is stated that, in accordance with this view, the Archduke has been ready to take the progress of the French arms as an index of the submission of the Mexicans to his rule.

The Moniteur has just detailed the advance of the French, Mexican and Indian forces, under command of Gen. BAZAINE. It announces that up to the end of November these forces had spread over the western provinces, having taken Oajaca and Valladolid, and that they were then closely investing Guadalajara, which was then daily expected to surrender. It states also that in the northern provinces JUAREZ had fled to Durango; that the French were about to take Guanajuato and San Luis Potosi: while the Governor of Chihuahua and New-Leon, whose capital was Monterey, and which formed the extreme northerly States, lying between San Luis Potosi and Texas, had revolted against JUAREZ, and was ready to accept MAXIMILIAN. JUAREZ was thus stated to be placed between two fires.

It is on such a general view of the state of the campaign that the Archduke's conclusion is believed to have been formed; and it is stated also that the strong representations of the French Government as to the impossibility of establishing the Mexican Government satisfactorily in his absence, and as to the importance of thus relieving France of some of the burdens of war and administration in that country, which press so heavily on the French Exchequer, have not been without effect.

THE SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN QUESTION.

There is increased apprehension of an outbreak, owing to the military movements in Holstein. King CHRISTIAN'S proclamation to the Danish army says:

"Our motto is the honor of our country, and it shall be upheld with peace, or if requisite, by force of arms. No life is too costly for the salvation of the fatherland. From the former struggle the army has retained experienced leaders, whom the young troops will now follow with enthusiasm. Courage, not numbers, above all, unhesitating military obedience in all cases, leads to victory."

His Majesty concludes by saying that he should soon gladly visit the different divisions of the troops. His Majesty reviewed a large portion of the army on the 3d, and was to leave for Frederickstadt on the 4th.

Advices from Copenhagen state that it is generally believed in the Capitol that a French and also an English fleet will soon appear in the Danish waters. Paris telegrams question the truth of this statement, but it gathers some strength from the fact that the British Channel fleet had been ordered home to some port in England.

The following telegrams indicate the activity that is being displayed by the military:

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 5.

About 14,000 men of the reserve have been called out by the Ministry of War.

RENDSBURGH, Jan. 4.

It is reported that the Danish pioneers have left for the Kronenwork with instructions to blow up the bridges next the sluice-bridge immediately on the outbreak of hostilities. Hanoverian and Austrian pioneers, with a small pontoon train, have arrived here. It is said they will be employed in erecting defences.

Contracts have been made for supplying provisions to the Federal troops.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Jan. 5.

The Thirteenth division has received orders for immediate concentration in the District of Priegnitz.

It is believed that this order indicates an intention on the part of the Federal troops to immediately occupy Schleswig.

It is stated that the Vienna Cabinet has positively declared to Prussia that it would not take any action in the question of Schleswig should Prussia, in the present state of things, withdraw from the London protocol.

EDENSBURG, Monday, Jan. 4.

Large reinforcements are to be sent from Eckemonde to the Island of Fehmeen. In case of war, it is believed that flank attacks will be made from that position.

KIEL, Tuesday, Jan. 5.

The Danes have imposed very heavy requisitions upon the southeastern districts of Schleswig, one demand being for 200 three-horse carts, and another for 3,000,000 pounds of straw.

The semi-official General Correspondenz of Vienna publishes an article cautioning the minor German States against Denmark. It expresses doubts regarding their power to undertake attacks upon the integrity and independence of States belonging to the Confederation, and says:

"The mission of protecting the Confederation against any chances which might result from European complications belongs only to the great German Powers, and the minor States are mistaken, if they think to be able to carry out attacks against Denmark and her possible allies on their own risk."

The Paris Pays asserts that Prussia and Austria are in accord in their determination to occupy Schleswig as a security, but only until the King of Denmark shall have satisfied the engagements entered into in 1851 with those two Powers.

The London Times says the private advices from Germany continue unfavorable, the excitement continues, and even the most steady men of business assert that they do not see how war is to be avoided. It is admitted that the sober classes view the whole affair with regret, but that owing to the impression of their being no alternative but a war or revolution, they join in the cry for the former. The Germans, it is added, are a slow people to rise, but when they do, it is very difficult to influence them, and they think they know Lord RUSSELL'S love for peace too well to be afraid of his notes.

AUSTRIA.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says there is hardly a statesman or a diplomatist in Vienna who does not think that there will be a war in the Spring. The Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH is said to have told the head of the War Department that he must be prepared for all contingencies.

POLAND.

There is nothing new in regard to the movements of the insurrectionists. It is stated that 250 prisoners, including Count STAINSLAUS ZAMOYSKI, were dispatched from Warsaw to Siberia on the 2d instant.

GREECE.

There were reports that the new King had entered Athens, convinced of his incapacity to remedy the confusion of the country. Their authenticity, however, is disputed.

It is stated that a comprehensive project had been submitted to the National Assembly for an establishment charged with the express functions of attending to and reducing the Greek debt.

Financial and Commercial.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

The funds showed continued heaviness and want of confidence. Consols on the 6th were quoted at 90⅞@91.

The demand for discount at the Bank was comparatively light, and in the open market transactions took place at 6¾ ₰ cent.

MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday, Jan. 6—P. M.

COTTON—The Cotton market, on Monday, opened buoyantly at a still further advance in some descriptions of ⅛d.@¼d.; but it has become quiter, although prices are maintained. Sales of the three days 24,000 bales, about 10,000 being for speculation and export.

TRADE AT MANCHESTER.

Producers have demanded an advance commensurate with the rise in Liverpool; but buyers resist, and business is, consequently, almost brought to a stand.

BY TELEGRAPH VIA QUEENSTOWN.

LONDON, Thursday Morning, Jan. 7.

Applications for discount at Bank yesterday were again moderate. All the markets opened yesterday with increased depression, and became still more dull as business proceeded. In the afternoon, however, the telegrams from Germany were less unfavorable, and a report then gained currency not only that proposals for conference had been agreed to by France and England, but that there is reason to believe they will be accepted by the German Powers—a recovery from the previous fall took place.

The Times is suspicious of the ultra pacific tone of the Emperor of the French, and is of opinion that such a line of conduct is at this time, much more than any other, favorable to the schemes of French ambition. At this particular juncture of affairs, for the Emperor and the Chambers of France to confine themselves to preaching the merits of peace is by no means the readiest way to obtain it. It would be better if France were to employ her whole influence in her endeavors to check those suicidal passions which are urging Germany into a war which must, before long sweep into its ever widening vortex every power of the European continent.

Sir WM. HALL, late Admiral of the Fleet, is dead.

The case of HERNAN and KING is postponed to the next Lewes Quarter Sessions.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE—THURSDAY, JAN. 7.

IMPORTANT FROM TENNESSEE,

Longstreet Reinforced and Reported to be Moving on Knoxville.

Morgan Threatening Our Communications.

CINCINNATI, Saturday, JAN. 23.

The Dispatch says Capt. EKIN, a staff officer from Knoxville, Thursday, a week ago, brings information that LONGSTREET had been reënforced with 20,000 men, and was advancing on Knoxville, pushing GRANGER'S forces before him. It was thought that our army would be compelled to fall back to the intrenchments at Knoxville.

It was reported that JOHN MORGAN, at the head of 5,000 cavalry, was about to make a movement to cut off communications between Knoxville and Chattanooga, or for a raid in Kentucky.

INTERESTING FROM CAIRO.

A Rebel Outrage—Capture of Guerrillas—Trade on the Mississippi—Heavy Re-Enlistments.

CAIRO, Sunday, Jan. 24.

One of the One Hundred and Seventeenth New-York Volunteers, having straggled away from the line of march during Gen. SMITH'S late expedition in West Tennessee, was hung up by the heels and had his throat cut.

Thirty-two guerrillas were captured on the 20th near Paris, Kentucky, and taken to Columbus.

The steamer Hillman, from Memphis, the 21st, has arrived with 450 bales of cotton. Maj.-Gen. HUNTER came as a passenger on board.

Gen. HURLBUT has issued an order committing the commerce of the Mississippi River exclusively to the agents of the Treasury Department, who will be responsible for the amounts, character and disposition of the supplies, and for the character of the persons to whom the same are given. No permits will hereafter be required or given by the military authorities, except for the purchase of military or sutlers' supplies.

Gen. SHERMAN had returned to Memphis from Vicksburgh.

Reënlistments are being rapidly pushed forward. Nearly the entire Sixteenth Army Corps will reënlist.

All was quiet at Vicksburgh.

Twenty thousand men of the Seventeenth Army Corps have reënlisted. It is understood that Gen. BUCKLAND will take the command.

The Memphis cotton market was unchanged.

The steamer Swan, from New-Orleans the 15th inst., has arrived with the Twenty-fourth Indiana Volunteers, 300 strong, en route home on furlough, and 100 other furloughed men from various regiments. She also brings a large lot of groceries for St. Louis and other points on the Ohio River.

Returning Regiments.

CINCINNATI, Sunday, Jan. 24.

The Sixth New-Hampshire Volunteers arrived here yesterday, and the One Hundred and Ninth Pennsylvania, and the Twelfth, Sixty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Illinois regiments, all reënlisted, have arrived at Louisville.

JAMES MCLEAN, an old citizen, died yesterday evening.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTN.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Jan. 24.

THE PROPOSED NAVAL RACE.

The sum of three thousand dollars was raised yesterday in the Navy Department to pay the expenses of the race to which the Kin Kiang has been invited, and the money has been forwarded to Fortress Monroe, where the gunboat is to meet her rival, and take a neck-and-neck start for New York. Naval officers here are eager to bet on the Eutaw. They say that with twenty inches of steam she has repeatedly, and for long spaces of time, made fifteen knots the hour, and they feel confident that however swift the Kin-Kiang may be, she cannot leave the war-ship behind four knots the hour. It is understood here that the two forward guns of the Eutaw will be taken off, and her ammunition removed before the race begins, solely to lighten her.

GOVERNMENT FINANCES.

The Secretary of the Treasury has determined to pay the five per cent. legal tender notes to the creditors of the Government. No more long bonds will be issued at present. It is the Secretary's opinion that inflation will not ensue upon the issue of the notes; that they will be hoarded as soon as interest begins to accumulate upon them.

REBEL PRISONERS AND THE AMNESTY.

There is little doubt that at least one-half of the rebel prisoners in our hands would cheerfully avail themselves of the President's Amnesty Proclamation if they had an opportunity of doing so. The following extract from a letter, written by a captive at Point Lookout, to his brother here, expresses the condition and feeling of many rebels now held as prisoners of war:

"I am here a prisoner against my will. I have no sympathy with the South, and although I now wear the uniform of a rebel soldier, never had any sympathy with her. I was forced into the rebel ranks in 1862. During that time I have made three attempts to escape the hated service by deserting. The last time I tried to get away, I was caught, tried by Court-martial, and sentenced to be shot for desertion. My life was saved by the interposition of my Colonel.

I am as loyal to the Union as you are. Won't you try to have me released. I would rather die than be exchanged and go back into the rebel ranks. There are now in confinement here five thousand men who would be glad to take the President's oath, and more than one-half of them would gladly join the Union army."

TRADE ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

Secretary CHASE will to-morrow or next day issue new regulations to govern the trade in cotton and other property in the Mississippi Valley that shall remove all the restrictions at present complained of, and effectually prevent its falling into the hands of monopolists and military favorites.

AID TO A NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

The Senate Commerce Committee is disposed to treat liberally the applications for Government aid made in behalf of a line of steamers from California to China, and from New-York to South America.

GEN. ROSECRANS AND GEN. SCHOFIELD.

The order sending ROSECRANS to the Department of Missouri, and SCHOFIELD to the Army in Tennessee, has been made out.

MISS ANNA E. DICKINSON.

Miss ANNA E. DICKINSON has been invited by the Mayor and the most eminent citizens of Cincinnati to speak in that city in the month of February.

TOBACCO AND COAL OIL.

The Ways and Means Committee will report on tobacco and petroleum on Tuesday or Wednesday.

PASS OFFICER IN THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

Lieut.-Col. CONRAD, for some months Pass Officer in the War Department, has been assigned to duty on the staff of Maj.-Gen. SYKES. His successor is Col. PELOUZE, late of Gen. MCDOWELL'S staff.

BRIG.-GEN. GETTY.

Brig.-Gen. GETTY, recently in command at Portsmouth, Va., has been assigned to duty as Chief of Artillery on Gen. MEADE'S staff.

PAY FOR THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

The Army of the Potomac has not yet been paid off. It is expected that funds will be ready by the middle of the week. The amount required is six millions of dollars.

GOLD IN IDAHO.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office today received an interesting letter from Mr. G. E. UPSON, dated Bannock City, Idaho Territory, Nov. 23, 1863, giving a description of the gold region in that vicinity. He says:

"Bannock City, or East Bannock, is situated on a tributary of Beaver Head, called Grasshopper River. The mountains on either side of the stream in the vicinity of the city are fully five thousand feet above the level of the stream. In this valley or gulch, and clear up the sides of the mountains, 'diggings' for over twenty miles have been discovered, and claims have been staked off wherever a show of gold is to be seen. The highest yield thus far to the pan has been five hundred. The average yield to the pan is about five dollars."

FROM THE SOUTH.

ARRIVAL OF THE COSMOPOLITAN

THE BOMBARDMENT OF CHARLESTON.

STEADY PROGRESS OF OUR ASSAULT.

List of Sick and Wounded.

The United States Hospital transport steamer Cosmopolitan, Capt. A. C. CADOGEN, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon, bringing 222 sick and wounded soldiers from the Department of the South.

The Cosmopolitan left Port Royal at 7 o'clock on the evening of the 21st, making the trip in 35 hours. Her medical officers are Assistant Surgeon EDWARD BULKLEY, of the Sixth Connecticut Volunteers, and HORACE P. PORTER, of the Seventh.

Three deaths occurred on the passage—JOHN WAGNER, of the One Hundred and Sixty-ninth New-York; WILLIAM DAVIS, One Hundred and Forty-fourth New-York Volunteers, and one other.

The Fulton was to leave Port Royal on the 23d. She will be due here on Tuesday.

We are indebted to CHARLES B. FENWICK, Purser of the Cosmopolitan, for the prompt delivery of our dispatches.

SIEGE OF CHARLESTON.

Condition of the Army—Progress of the Siege—Sale of Confiscated Estates—Miscellaneous.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HILTON HEAD, S. C., Thursday, Jan. 21, 1864.

Nothing of unusual interest has transpired at this point since the date of my last dispatch. The shelling of Charleston from Fort Putnam is continued night and day, at intervals of ten minutes. One gun alone has fired over 1,100 rounds, at an elevation of forty degrees. Charleston is gradually crumbling under this incessant bombardment. We often observe dense clouds of smoke arising from some portion of the city, which is considered good evidence that our firing is effective.

Occasionally we send a few missiles to Moultrie or Johnson, or some other rebel work, which are reluctantly replied to by the enemy. For some weeks past the enemy has evinced an unmistakable desire to be let alone. He invariably waits for an attack before using his pieces.

We do not observe any changes of note along the borders of the rebel lines.

The iron-clad fleet remain on picket duty off Charleston, notwithstanding rumors to the effect that a number of the monitors had been dispatched for service to the Gulf. The Court of Inquiry instituted to investigate the circumstances attending the loss of the Weehawken have not yet made public the result of their proceedings. The impression generally prevails that carelessness will be found to be the immediate cause of the disaster. This conclusion would accord with the belief of numerous navy officers who witnessed the sinking of the vessel, and who have since had opportunities of strengthening that conviction.

The work of raising the Weehawken and the Keokuk, although not abandoned, has not progressed actively of late. The vessels consist of such a vast quantity of metal, added to which is a tremendous weight of loose iron, including guns and ammunition, that the machinery required for bringing the entire mass to the surface must necessarily be of the best material and of extensive proportions. A few adjuncts, in the way of machinery, will soon be supplied, when the labor will be resumed. It is believed the bodies—with two or three exceptions—of the unfortunate men who went down in the Weehawken, are still encased in the cabins and turret. The exceptions refer to the bodies washed upon the beach a few days after the accident occurred.

The subjoined circular, issued by Gen. SAXTON, has been extensively circulated about Beaufort and the adjacent islands. It will be observed that the General gives wholesome advice to the people concerning matters appertaining to the purchase and culture

OUR FAST STEAMERS AND THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Letter from Mr. E. A. Rutherford.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 22, 1864.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Will you be good enough to read this letter. I doubt seriously whether you have ever read the replies to Mr. Dickerson, although, from the conspicuous positions accorded to his communications, it is evident that if you do not read them you at least know their substance. Now, sir, you will be astonished when I tell you that your paper has been the means of perpetuating one of the grossest frauds on truth and justice ever devised by man, and that your editorial conduct, in backing up the false positions of E. N. Dickerson, of New-York, has caused you to be judged very harshly by professional engineers. In reply, sir, to my official report, which was printed in your paper on Thursday, although your reporter promised me it shou'd not appear until Friday, you published a communication from Mr. Dickerson, to expose the nature of which shall be the object of this letter.

Mr. DICKERSON states that my "object in reporting a statement of facts to the Navy Department, was to prove that he made a false statement in regard to the engines of the Kin Kiang, and to bring him into much probable disgrace." This is not so. My object was to report the truth, and had Mr. DICKERSON built the entire engines of the vessel, I would have stated so.

It was not my intention, or that of the Navy Department, to prove that Mr. DICKERSON did not get up the valve gear of the Kin Kiang; but his communication to the TIMES having been understood by many persons to convey the impression that he had furnished drawings for other portions of that vessel, he Government determined to ascertain the fact.

So much space having been devoted to an explanation of Mr. DICKERSON's representation of my report, I beg now to show where he stands, and what are the facts in regard to his statements. Everybody who reads the newspapers knows that Mr. DICKERSON has been endeavoring to prove in the public journals that our naval vessels have failed in speed. He recently published a pamphlet, on the title page of which "The Causes of the Failure of our Steamers" was printed in very large capitals. When the Navy Department, stunned by the unaccountable conduct of the New-York press in regard to this man, had made an offer to run one of the navy steamers against a merchant ship, Mr. DICKERSON came out with a letter, which appeared on the editorial page of the NEW-YORK TIMES. I extract a paragraph from that letter: "The general impression of this challenge is, that the Navy Department has a sea-going steamer built after its plans, which can run with the Adriatic and Scotia, and if such was the fact, the Navy would have cause to be proud; but the fact is, that the boat which Mr. Fox proposes to run is not a sea-going steamer, but only a side-wheel double-ender—a large ferry-boat—built light, to go into the lagoons of the South after forage or guerrillas. * * * * All the engines of these boats are made with an independent cut-off—the Stevens cut-off—which is most largely used," &c. Now, sir, you will find that one of the most important portions of the controversy now going on in the papers is, whether the Eutaw, and vessels of her class, have an independent cut-off? That is one of the little pieces of ground left under Mr. DICKERSON's feet since his wholesale attacks on the speed of the navy have been hunted down to their present limits, but this footing will soon go from under him.

The Eutaw, Sir, and the double-enders of her class, have not an independent cut-off—never had such a thing. In fact, she has no more of a cut-off than any other steam vessel built for the navy, except some vessels the valve gear of which was constructed by Mr. DICKERSON.

Now, Sir, I ask you, as a fair, honorable man, to consider the bearing this fact has on Mr. DICKERSON's statement. With a brazon effrontery that could not be paralleled by any man in America, he has had the audacious impertinence to run into print, and state that the Stevens valve gear is an independent cut-off. But in order to show the Editor of the TIMES and the public that the Navy Department has no fear of having the truth investigated, I will, for the present, skim through the mist which Mr. DICKERSON has thrown around the eyes of New-York Editors, and come to its own proposition. He proclaims that the Ticonderoga and Lackawanna, and vessels of that class, which he acknowledges to be built without cut-offs, cannot make more than nine knots an hour. Now, Sir, Mr. DICKERSON, leaving out of sight his antecedents altogether, is only a gentleman and a lawyer of New-York, who has never, I believe, been on board any of the screw sloops he talks of on a trial trip. On the other hand, Capt. BOGGS, of the navy, is an officer of high reputation and of unblemished character. His heroic conduct in the command of the Varuna procured for him an honorable and well-deserved promotion. That officer, Sir, in obedience to the instructions of Secretary WELLES, commanded the screw sloop Sacramento, of the Lackawanna class, on a sea trial trip, and on general service. He experienced in her very rough weather, and he reports, Sir, to the Navy Department that the vessel can make twelve and a half and thirteen knots an hour; that she did make it, under his own personal supervision, and that she was not put to her full force in doing so. Capt. BOGGS is now in this City, Sir, attached to Admiral GREGORY's staff, and can substantiate his report to the Navy Department. The public will judge whether he is to be believed, or a man who has been obliged within the last six weeks to take back his assertions, one by one, until he is now left without a single foot of earth to stand upon.

Time has gone, Mr. Editor, when the falsehoods of Mr. DICKERSON will be allowed to go unanswered in the New-York press. Editors who know nothing about technical matters may be carried away by his jesting asseverations of matters entirely foreign to their knowledge; but the public will henceforth have the facts placed before them, whether they believe them or not.

Allow me to say one word in regard to Mr. PARKER, of the firm of OLIPHANT & Co. He is sorry that I submitted for publication the subject of his conversation. It was not intended for publication when I wrote it, and reports of this kind are always written by Naval agents or officers, as if they were not to be printed. You must look to your reporter for the untimely publication of the matter. In justice to myself, however, I must state that the only portion of Mr. PARKER's conversation, which it seems to me he would not like to publish, is left out of my report, as I did not think, from his manner of speaking it, that he would even wish me to communicate it to the department. That part of the conversation deeply concerns Mr. DICKERSON's conduct in this matter.

Your obedient servant,

EDWIN A. RUTHERFORD.

The Great Naval Ferry-boat Race.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

It is truly stated in the Herald, of to-day, that a navy double-ender, called the Chicopee, has just completed her trial at the dock in New-York of 76 hours—72 hours are called a "complete cycle" by the Engineer-in-chief—and that she turned her wheels ten times a minute. This boat is similar to the Eutaw, and to about thirty others, built and building, in engine, boilers and hull; so that Capt. Fox is provided with a vessel to race the Kin Kiang without waiting for the breaking up of the ice in the Potomac. And the owner of the Kin Kiang will be able, I presume, to make the match without any serious delay to their plans—but I do not know their views. This boat is a much fairer one to race with than the Eutaw, because she is new, like the Kin Kiang. She has run more than one "complete cycle," whereas the Kin Kiang has only run about the tenth of a "cycle." But the Eutaw has been making fast time, tied to the dock at Newburgh, several months. She was running her wheels in November, and is therefore in much better order to run than a new boat. Yours,

E. N. DICKERSON.

FIFTH CONNECTICUT VOLUNTEERS.—This regiment of reënlisted veterans, 315 strong, Col. PACKER commanding, eleven days from Chattanooga, came by the Erie Railroad to the City yesterday and quartered at the Park Barracks, on its way to Connecticut on furlough for thirty days.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

MASS MEETING OF WORKING JEWELERS.—A mass meeting of the working jewelers of New-York was held at 2 P. M., yesterday, at No. 113½ Bowery, for the purpose of forming a protective union. The meeting was organized by electing Mr. L. N. NATHAN Chairman, Mr. HONSINGER BIRKLING Secretary, and Mr. STAIBBEL Treasurer. After a pretty full discussion, all present enrolled their names; a brief adjournment to draft resolutions was had, and a series was adopted, providing for the election of delegates from each shop, with powers to act for the common benefit, and to prepare a proper constitution and by-laws. The meeting then adjourned.

THE ART OF MONEY-GETTING.—On Wednesday evening next, Mr. P. T. BARNUM will deliver his famous lecture on "The Art of Money-getting," at the Cooper Institute. This lecture has been delivered in the principal cities of England and America, and been received with approval. At the conclusion of the lecture, four enormous giants, the Albino family, the Tyrolean whistler, the Lightning Calculator, and the living "What is It," will be exhibited. As the gross receipts are for the benefit of the United States Sanitary Commission and the National Freedman's Society, the hall ought to be crowded to its utmost capacity.

COOPER UNION—LECTURE.—The annual course of lectures of the Cooper Union on "Social and Political Science," will begin next Friday evening, the 29th inst., at 8 o'clock. Like all the departments of this Institution, these lectures are free, but to avoid a crowd the admission will be by tickets, which can be obtained at the reading-room of the Institution, from 8 A. M. till 10 P. M.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE BROOKLYN FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The total number of men drafted into the military service from the Fire Department of the Western District, and whose commutation was paid by the city, was forty. At a meeting of the Board of Officers recently held, the Committee on the subject made their report to the above effect. The Chief Engineer stated that two or three bills had been introduced into the State Legislature in regard to the Fire Department. Last year a bill had been passed, by which the entire yearly expenditure of both departments was limited to the sum of $50,000. He did not think the sum sufficient—$100,000, he contended, would not be too much for the purpose. In the discussion which ensued, it was stated that the salaries of the different officers, which amounted to about $16,000 a year, was included in the appropriations. The amount is nearly equally divided between the Eastern and the Western Districts, although the latter department contains five times as many men as the former. Three new companies had been organized during the year, and it would take at least $12,000 from the funds to purchase lots and build houses thereon. In view of this fact a resolution was adopted requesting the Fire Commissioners to organize no more new companies without consulting the Board of Officers. A resolution was also adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of three to proceed to Albany, and consult with our Representatives in regard to the bills now before them. The Foremen of Engines Nos. 5 and 14, Hose No. 2, and Hook and Ladder No. 5, were appointed such Committee.

DIED OF THEIR INJURIES.—HENRY MARCELLA, who was severely injured some days since, by being caught in the machinery in HUGHES' tobacco factory at Red Hook, died on Saturday morning. An inquest was held by Coroner NORRIS, and a verdict of accidental death rendered. An inquest was held upon the body of JOHN PHILLIPS, mate of a vessel lying at Wheeler's Dock, who fell down the hatchway into the hold, and sustained fatal injuries. A verdict in accordance was rendered by the jury.

FIRE.—About 11 o'clock on Saturday a fire broke out in an unoccupied house in Underhill-avenue, near Flatbush-avenue. The premises are owned by Mr. JOHN CASHOW, and the house has remained in an unfinished condition for the past five years. The fire originated in the attic, and was the work of an incendiary. Damage, $500; no insurance.

THE TENTH WARD ALDERMEN.—The Democrats of the Tenth Ward have nominated Mr. FRANCIS KELLY as candidate for Alderman in place of Mr. J. O. NODYNE, resigned. The Republican nominee is Mr. A. L. VAN BUREN. The election will take place on the first Tuesday in February.

THE REV. H. W. BEECHER.—It is understood that Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER declines accepting the gratuity of $5,000 recently tendered to him by the congregation of Plymouth Church. The Society, having refused to raise his salary, voted him the above-named sum as a donation.

CONTRACTS FOR REPAIRING THE STREETS.—The Brooklyn Board of Contracts have awarded the contract for repairing the streets of the Western District to MICHAEL BAXTER, for the sum of $15,000; and to J. H. COLOHAN, for repairing the streets of the Eastern District, for $4,000.

BROOKLYN CITY MORTALITY.—The total number of deaths in this City last week was 133, of which 22 were men, 33 women, and 78 children. Natives of the United States, 101; Ireland, 18; Germany, 9; England, 1; France, 1; unknown, 3.

Williamsburgh.

ROBBERY OF CLOTHING.—Some thieves who are evidently acquainted with the premises, on Friday night entered the premises at the Manor House, in East Brooklyn, and robbed a tailor named M. PIERANDO, of customers' clothing to the value of $251. There is no clue to the thieves.

AWARDED.—Hon. JOHN H. COLAHAN, Judge of the Fourth District Court, has been awarded a contract for repairing the streets of Brooklyn, E. D., for the present year at $4,000. In case the Judge is not eligible by reason of his official position, Messrs. HILL & NEWMAN are the next lowest bidders at $5,000.

SNEAK THIEVES.—On Saturday afternoon, between 1 and 3 o'clock P. M., the house of Mr. M. KING, No. 36 Grand-street, Brooklyn, E. D., was entered by some sneak thieves and robbed of clothing to the amount of $40.

ROBBING RECRUITS.—Officers COCHEN and DALY, of Brooklyn, E. D., on Saturday morning arrested a colored boarding-house keeper named BEN BYASS, of No. 42 Baxter-street, New-York, who had robbed two colored recruits of their bounty-money. Four hundred and nineteen dollars was found on his person and returned to the volunteers, whose names are JOHN RODGERS and ELIJAH DAVIDS.

A man named JOHN JOHNSON, substitute for a drafted man named DUFFY, of No. 46 Pacific-street, Brooklyn, was also arrested for jumping the bounty from the Fifty-second, One Hundred and Fifty-eighth and One Hundred and Sixty-fourth regiments, was also arrested by the same officers.

we note a curious reduction in agricultural profits, by the low state of prices. The year 1862 commenced with the wheat averages at 62s. 1d., and closed at 45s. 9d., showing a decline of 16s. 6d. per qr. 1863 commenced at 45s. 10d., and closed at 40s. 5d. The highest point was in February, viz., 48s. 4d., the lowest in November, when it twice descended to 39s. 10d. So the extreme fluctuations have been 8s. 6d. per qr. on a low range. The period throughout was dull and declining, without any redeeming features for foreign importers or native growers, so far as rates were concerned. The enormous importations of 1862, and corresponding losses, had completely laid the spirit of speculation, which was only awaking in November, to be as speedily put down by the sudden rise in discounts through the monetary demand for foreign exigencies. The great event which has enabled farmers to battle with low prices has been an unusually good harvest, more especially as regards Wheat. There was nothing very promising in the outset: the Winter had been mild, as well as the early Spring, so much so that on the first week in February the Vistula was quite free from ice. So there was the probability of new supplies upon large foreign stocks, the overplus of the extraordinary imports. March proved mild, April was almost without rain, and it became cold and harsh during the first half in May, when a fine rain falling, fears respecting the crops were dismissed. A considerable downfall afterwards came during the last fortnight of June; and then followed the finest possible weather for maturing of the crops, which were generally secured in good order, the exceptions being in Scotland and Ireland. Three times in August the averages were 45s. 11d.; so we may take the further reduction from that period, which was 6s. 1d., as the consequence of the good crop. But a lavish use has certainly been made of it; much has been used for cattle feed; foreign imports have greatly fallen off, and stocks are materially reduced. So soon, therefore, as the monetary pressure ceases, we may again expect a revival in trade, more especially as political complications are more numerous and threatening, and though the British Government have been able hitherto to carry out their principle of non-intervention, there is no telling whether they will be able to continue clear of the growing strife, either in the Old World and the New. With much wet in autumn, it subsequently became dry and mild; while much Wheat has been successfully planted, and the young Corn, according to its time of planting, looks all that could be desired. The yield in Europe was generally good, but Hungary suffered from drouth, and some districts in Southern Russia and Northern Italy note a deficiency. The want of labor and waste of war very much diminish our expectations from America, and the future seems much more favorable to prices than at any period for some time past. Although there was a temporary suspension of business during Christmas, a healthier feeling has sprung up with the opening year, which in every sense of the word we hope will prove prosperous, both to the growers and consumers of corn. The same upward tendency has been evinced in some foreign markets, notwithstanding the limitation of business during the holidays.

Scotch Pig is scarce and held higher. For Manufactured Iron the demand is active, but the mills generally having large contracts ahead are not taking new orders."

LEATHER—The week's business in this line, Messrs. E. D. Bass & Co. notice thus: "The market for Hemlock Sole continues active under a fair demand from buyers from all sections, with moderate receipts, which are fully absorbed by the sales, leaving the supply very nearly exhausted. Prices, though without quotable change, are firm, with an upward tendency. From the tanneries the receipts are fair for the season, but are barely sufficient to supply the demand. For Oak Sole the demand is active, and prices are firmer. The receipts continue very scarce, and are taken as fast as they come in at about quotations. Rough Upper remains as last noted, in moderate request at firm rates."

NAVAL STORES—Continue in limited demand, including Spirits Turpentine, at $2 85@$3 ℔ gallon; Rosins, at $25@$35 ℔ 280 lbs.; Tar, at $10@$14; Pitch, at $17@$22 ℔ bbl.

OILS—Have been in moderate request, at uniform rates. We quote: Crude Whale, at $1 10@$1 12; Crude Sperm, at $2 62½@$1 65; Bleached Winter Whale at $1 22½@$1 25; Unbleached Sperm at $1 87½@ ℔ gallon; Linseed at $1 55, No. 1 Lard at $1 ℔ gallon; and $6 37½@$6 50 and $4 50@$4 75 ℔ 100 pounds and quarts: Crude Petroleum at 31c.@32c., in bond do. at 55c.@57½c.—the latter an extreme rate—free, and 46½c.@48c. in bond, ℔ gallon. Refined Petroleum, 738 bbls.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been inactive, and prices declining, closing heavily. Sales, since our last, 1,850 bbls. and 1,000 half bbls. for New Mess; $19 62½@$19 75 for Mess, last quotable prevailing; $18 62½c.@$18 75 for two year old Mess; $18 50@$18 for Old and new Clear Mess; $18@ $18 for Thin Mess; $19@$21 50 for Western and City Prime Mess; $16 50@$17 for Sour Mess; $16@$16 for Old and New Prime, ℔ bbl. Cut Meats continue in moderate request, at 10½c.@10¾c. for Hams, and 7¾c.@9c. for Shoulders, ℔ lb.; sales, 300 pkgs., part for future delivery. Bacon is less active, at 10½c.@13c., according to quality, ℔ lb.; sales 350 boxes, for immediate and future delivery. Dressed Hogs are in limited request, at 9c.@9¾c., the latter for choice City. Lard is heavy and drooping; sales 1,050 tcs. and bbls. at 12¾c.@13¾c., the latter an extreme rate, for very choice New City, ℔ lb. Beef is in good demand and firm; sales, 1,150 bbls., at $14 50@$16 for Extra Mess, and $12 50@$14 25 for plain Mess; Prime Mess, $24 50@$25 50; India Mess, $29 @$30 ℔ tierce. Beef Hams, $19@$21 ℔ bbl.; sales 200 bbls. Butter is in less demand to-day, at 18c.@20c. for poor to choice Western, and 27c.@32c. for common to choice State, ℔ lb. Cheese continues in moderate request, at 13c.@16½c. ℔ lb.

SEEDS—Seeds are in moderate request from manufacturers, and most of the desirable stock has been cleared out of the market at about the annexed figures. The present receipts are larger than for some weeks past, which will probably find ready sale on landing. Dear are firm at full prices, parcels selling readily on arrival.

SUGARS—Have been in moderate demand at steady rates. Sales, since our last, 270 hhds., including New-Orleans, 13c.@14¾c.; Martinique, 12¾c., and Cuba, 12c.@12¾c.; also, 210 boxes Havana, at 13c.@13½c. ℔ lb. Refined Sugars continue quiet at 13¾c.@17¾c. ℔ lb.

TALLOW—Sales 85,000 lbs., at 12¼c.@12⅝c.

WHISKY—Sales have been reported since our last of 350 bbls. State at 84¾c.@85c. ℔ gallon, but the market continues unsettled, and prices are quiet nominal.

WOOL—Is in moderate demand, yet holders are confident, and refuse to make any important concessions. The week's sales (checked in part by the auctions here and in Boston) included 200,000 lbs. domestic fleece, at 75c.@83c.; 65,000 lbs. domestic pulled, at 72c.@80c.; 35,000 lbs. California Spring clip, at 47½c.@52½c.; 25.000 lbs. German pulled, on private terms; 650 bales Cape, at 40c.@46c., the latter an extreme price for a small lot; 200 bales Provence, at 26c.@32c.; 80 bales Donskoi, part White, at 46c.@48c.; 450 bales Mestiza, part at 40c.@45c.; and sundry small lots of foreign, at generally full rates; also, by auction, on Friday, 76 bales and 6 bags Cape, mostly damaged, at 28½c.@36c.; and 55 bales badly damaged flocks, at 3¼c.@16¾c. ℔ lb.....In Boston, during the week, sales were made of 550,000 lbs. domestic, at 75c.@87½c. for fleece, and 69c.@85c. for pulled; also 650 bales foreign, at steady prices. The auction sale of Cape Wool in Boston on Wednesday last passed off at very satisfactory prices. The quality of the Wool was rather inferior, short staple and heavy. The following lots were sold: 18 bales Unwashed Cape Wool at 40c.; 56 do. do., 40½c.; 24 do. do., 40c.; 31 do. do., 39½c.; 33 do. do., 39c.; 33 do. do., 37½c.; 34 do. do., 38¾c.; 33 do. do., 38c.; 33 do. do., 38¾c.; 34 do. do., 37½c; 133 do. do., 38½c.; 1 do. slightly damaged, 36c.; 16 do. do. Mestiza, 23c.; 74 do. do., withdrawn; 27 do. Varna do., 36c.; 82 do. Constantine, 32½c. ℔ lb.....In Philadelphia, during the week, sales were made of 200,000 lbs. Domestic Fleece at 75c.@85c. ℔ lb.

FREIGHTS—Have been quite dull to-day. For Liverpool, the engagements included 2,000 bbls. Flour at 1s.@1s. 1½d.; 550 boxes Bacon at 10s.@17s. 6d.; 80 hhds. Tallow, at 10s. For London, 100 bbls. NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The news from Chattanooga is encouraging. Trains are now running regularly between that place and Nashville. The arrival of supplies is large, and full rations are again issued to the troops. A large number of recruits are constantly arriving, sufficient to balance the number of veterans going home. The desertions from the rebel army are very numerous, 150 deserting at one time on Monday last. The rebel army at Dalton is reported to be 30,000 strong, and so reduced in supplies that they are killing their best mules for supplies of meat. Gen. Grant arrived at Chattanooga yesterday morning.

The statement published in the Times of the 14th inst., that Longstreet had been heavily reinforced from the armies of Johnston and Lee, seems to be corroborated. The Cincinnati Dispatch says, upon the authority of Capt. Ekin, a staff officer, who left Knoxville on the 14th inst., that not only had Longstreet been reinforced, but he was advancing upon the city, pushing Granger's forces before him, and it was believed that our army would be compelled to fall back to its intrenched lines. The same authority says that a rumor was current that John Morgan with 5,000 cavalry was threatening our communications between Chattanooga and Knoxville.

Washington dispatches say that the order assigning Gen. Rosecrans to the command of the Department of the Missouri, and Gen. Schofield of the army under Gen. Grant, has been made out.

The U. S. Hospital Transport Cosmopolitan, from Port Royal on the evening of the 21st, with 222 sick and wounded soldiers from Gen. Gillmore's Department, arrived at this port yesterday. Our correspondent writes that the bombardment of Charleston is steadily continued, with the effect of causing frequent fires and the gradual crumbling away of the houses within range of our guns. There is little firing on the part of the rebels, who seem averse to expending their ammunition. The work of raising the sunken monitors Keokuk and Weehawken was in progress, but not with rapid results, as the immense mass of metal in the hulls and guns requires machinery of extraordinary strength to move it. The sale of confiscated lands for the payment of direct taxes had commenced at Port Royal, and the bidding was spirited. The contrabands were foremost in the purchases.

A despatch from Cairo says that reenlistments were taking place rapidly among the Western armies. Twenty thousand of the Seventeenth Army Corps have already reenlisted, and it is reported that nearly all of the Sixteenth intend to remain in service.

Letters received in this City from Port Hudson under date of Jan. 12 and 13, pronounces false all reports to the effect that captured officers from Gen. Ullman's division of colored troops had been shot. The fate of one only is unknown. The rest are either in Libby Prison, or at a rebel rendezvous in Texas. The rebels in the vicinity of Port Hudson and Baton Rouge are becoming quite bold, and their picket lines are close to ours. An expedition was sent out by Gens. Ullman's and Cooke, to endeavor to cut off a force of 2,000 rebels, who were making a stand about fifteen miles east of Port-Hudson.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Etna, from Liverpool on the 8th and Queenstown on the 7th of January, arrived at this port yesterday. Her news is two days later than that telegraphed from St. Johns, N. F., brought by the Columbia. The journals contain nothing striking concerning American affairs, with the exception of the London Times, which, in a characteristic article, endeavors to show that the Federal successes have been no successes at all, and consequently the war is apparently as little near the ending as ever. The Birmingham Post says that Mr. Bright was directly instrumental in getting from Washington a mitigation of the sentence of the pirate Rubery, who was convicted at San Francisco. The Schleswig-Holstein question continued to be exciting, and there were increased apprehensions of an outbreak. On the afternoon of the day, the steamer left Queenstown, however, the telegrams from Germany were less unfavorable, and a report had gained currency not only that proposals for conference had been agreed to by France and England, but there is reason to believe they will be accepted by the German Powers. The King of Denmark, who has been visiting the divisions of his troops, had issued an address to his army, and had ordered 14,000 men of the reserve to be called out. The text of the address of the Corps Legislatif of France in reply to the speech from the throne was read on the 4th. The unpopularity of the Mexican expedition is attested by the report of the Supplementary Credits Committee, which unanimously expresses the hope that an end should be put to the matter as soon as the honor and interest of the country will permit. News has reached England in rather a roundabout way, that King George of Greece, who cannot have been lying on a bed of roses since he went to Athens, is said by the Dutch Daily News to have quitted his adopted country in utter despair at the confusion that prevails.

GENERAL NEWS.

It is reported that Gen. Foster has asked to be relieved on account of his health.

The price of Gold fell off to $156¼ on Saturday. Money was in better supply to the brokers. The Railway speculation left off weaker than on Friday. The Popular 5-20 years' Stock went up to 104@104¼ per cent.

Condition of the South.

Toward the conclusion of every war there are indications which announce the ability of a nation to carry on hostilities with the force of positive demonstration; and no concealment of facts, or falsification of events in official documents, can hide the condition of a country thus circumstanced. Everything from the South indicates a speedy termination of the rebellion. The population is exhausted by a war that has not accomplished a single object for which it was commenced. Everywhere its armies have been driven back by the steady advance of the Federal forces. They have lost the Mississippi, and the States of Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, and a large portion of Virginia and Louisiana. Their armies are everywhere on the defensive. The people are suffering for the necessaries of life; their ports are blockaded, their currency worthless, and the population insufficient even for the purposes of a defensive war. Above all, the spirits of the soldiers are no longer hopeful. The people are beginning to grumble. Not long since Gen. Magruder advised his men to hang every one who hinted that "this was a poor man's war for the rich man's benefit." The message of Jefferson Davis to his rebel Congress, and the reports of his Cabinet officers, admit, by their despondency of tone, and the desperate measures they advise, the hopelessness of their situation.

The late movement of Gen. Meade beyond the Rapidan revealed a state of things that few in our army previously believed. About the only article of food found on the bodies of the rebels killed during that advance, was unground corn. The farmers everywhere through our line of march complained of the prospects of starvation. It was impossible for them to plow, as nearly all the animals used for purposes of agriculture had been taken for the use of the rebel army, and the few that remained were carried off by our cavalry. The rebel soldiers on picket no longer exhibit signs of vindictiveness, and talk freely with ours on the origin and conduct of the war, and desire peace. The prisoners in most instances appear pleased at their capture; they speak of their miserable rations. After a battle the majority of letters found on the rebel dead are from wives or mothers, complaining of destitution and the unkindness of neighbors. In the general conscription between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, multitudes of married men were seized—hence the wholesale desertions that have taken place.

For want of reserves, they have never been able to follow up a success; hence, none of their victories have been decisive. After the first battle of Bull Run, they did not advance beyond Munson's Hill. After the seven days' fight, they were repulsed at the Malvern Hills, and did not dare follow up McClellan to Turkey Bend. After the first day's success at Shiloh, they were defeated and driven back to Corinth. After Slaughter Mountain, Jackson immediately retreated to Orange Court-house. After the second battle of Bull Run, they made no pursuit, and, hazarding a flank movement, were defeated at Chantilly. When they entered Maryland, they expected to take Baltimore, but were forced to recross the Potomac after Antietam. After Fredericksburgh, they made no attempt to prevent Burnside from recrossing the Rappahannock. At Chancellorsville, exhausted and decimated, they had not the ability to follow Hooker when he fell back. Their temporary success on the first and second days at Gettysburgh was followed by a slaughter as fearful as at Waterloo. Hurled back from Baton Rouge, defeated at Corinth and repulsed at Murfreesboro, they gathered all the forces they could from every quarter, even to the taking away of one-third of Lee's army, and hurled all their available strength on Rosecrans at Chattanooga. Exhausted by victory, they could not reap its fruits, and were soon after driven out of Tennessee with slaughter and disaster by Grant and Hooker. A few months since Gen. Lee attempted, by a flank movement, to attack a part of the Army of the Potomac. Meade fell back from Culpepper, to the heights of Centreville, and at Bristoe repulsed, in the most gallant way, the corps of A. P. Hill. A day or two after, Lee fell back, losing a brigade at Rappahannock Station, and a part of another one near Kelley's Ford. In every instance their successes have been followed by disasters, and their victories by exhaustion. Like the stone of Sysiphus, they only move forward to be driven back twice as far.

Repeated conscriptions have failed to fill the chasms in their ranks; and now the last desperate recourse left Jefferson Davis is a levy en masse. He gravely proposes, after sweeping the whole population into his butternut ranks, to detail soldiers to carry on the necessary manufacturing and professional duties of society. But if the conscription fails, what then? A levy en masse cannot occur but once in a generation, and unless it accomplishes its object, the country resorting to it is lost. Napoleon tried it after Leipsic, and failed. Robespierre had better success. And Mr. Davis tries to do, after nearly three years of exhausting war, what the French National Assembly barely accomplished at the commencement of an invasion, at a period of national frenzy, and which even then required to be backed by the guillotine, a reign of terror and a sea of blood. It is not improbable that his conscription may increase one-half his ragged and half-famished regiments; and then he will throw them in a wild and convulsive effort on our bayonets. To meet this final effort, every sacrifice must be made. A repulse to him will then be ruin an indecisive battle a defeat, and a defeat the annihilation of the rebellion.

On our side everything looks cheering. So confident are our soldiers of success, that veterans are reenlisting by regiments. By recruiting and conscription the army will be augmented by 300,000 in the Spring. But if it is only augmented half that number, and 75,000 men are added to Meade's command, and as many to Grant's, the former will then have more men in that addition alone than he had when he drove Lee from Gettysburgh, and the latter when he drove Bragg from Tennessee.

Where Will the Rebellion Leave Us?

There are many who still doubt the possibility of a restoration to union and quiet, even after the rebellion is subdued. A "subjugated" people, they say, can never be relied on. A glance at our revolutionary history may be the best thing to reassure us, though, in fact, all history abounds with instances of great disaffection turning to order, and the spirit of rebellion forever vanishing, under the reign of just law.

Sabine says it is a very moderate computation to place the number of Tories in the Colonies who in arms aided the British troops against the Whigs, at twenty thousand. Thus a very large share of the available fighting men of the Colonies was arrayed against them. Indeed, in 1779, the loyalists in London, in a public address, claimed that they had put more men in arms against the Whigs than Congress had enlisted in its cause. It was generally believed by them, to the last, that the royal cause would conquer in the end, and almost every cotemporary statement put their number in advance of the Whigs. Events proved the reverse; and the sequel of the present rebellion may convince many now doubtful that the South, within the rebel lines, though apparently united against the Union, will, when the rebel pressure is raised, show a preponderance the other way.

We know that the rebel newspapers make a great deal of clamor about the general determination of the Southern people never to live peacefully in the Union again. But all this sort of clamor amounts to nothing. In the Carolinas and in Pennsylvania, the Whigs and the Tories went through the Revolutionary War nearly equally divided, till, with Northern support, the Whigs triumphed; and yet history shows us that the "subjugated" Tories fell easily into the new order of things at the peace. Indeed, in South Carolina, the ancestors of the present fire-eaters showed a perfect readiness to change front according as they were beaten. When Gen. Lincoln was forced to surrender Charleston, one might judge from their addresses to the English Commander, that it gave them great pleasure to return to their colonial relations. Again, when Greene brought his New-Englanders and regained the State, they quite as readily hailed their redeliverance from English power. In Georgia, the Whigs were forced to retire at the commencement of the struggle, or maintain absolute inaction and silence. The British held the State for the whole seven years of the war, and when it was given up, in 1782, the royalist administration was complete throughout it. Yet the reviving whiggery of the State had no difficulty in making it a true and loyal part of the Confederation.

In New-York the case was still more striking. The Loyalists here, throughout the struggle, were numerically the stronger party, and to the end of the war this City was held as the enemy's headquarters. Yet the State merged into the homogeneousness of the new nation without the slightest difficulty. The Tories were at once conciliated by a general amnesty, recalling the banished and lifting confiscations.

The conquering power in civil war always gains a people's submission by a wise and clement policy, and easily retains it. There is no civil war that may not be terminated without rancorous sequels. The overthrow of rebel armies does not at all interfere with the restoration of good fellowship among the people. It is not at all improbable that South Carolina herself, instead of being as she once was, a perpetual thorn in the side of the Union, will become one of its staunchest supporters.

State Prison Reforms.

We hope the Legislature will not, in the multitude of matters that demand its attention, overlook the subject of reform in the management of our State Prisons. It may not be feasible to adopt at once such a comprehensive system of reformation as the actual condition of these institutions requires, but in very many respects minor changes can be made that will be of very great importance. The whole subject of prison discipline and management needs a thorough revision. We are by no means certain that the steps taken by Government for the punishment of crime do not really increase it—there seems to be such an utter disregard of the elements and conditions that enter into this most complicated social problem. But it is not likely that we shall very soon have Legislatures made up of social philosphers or, what would be still better, of men competent and disposed to understand and apply the truths set forth by such philosophers, to the practical conduct of public affairs.

But there are matters of detail that certainly should command attention. One was referred to by Gov. Seymour in his Message. He urged that convicts should be permitted to shorten their term of punishment by good behavior. It has been already adopted in part, and has worked so well that he recommends its extension. Another reform, of still greater importance in our judgment, is that which would enable a convict to aid by his labor in the support of his family. No one who knows anything of human nature can fail to see that, in every-day life one of the strongest incentives to industry and to virtue is the duty and the privilege of working for wife and children. Many a man, who would be a reckless vagabond if he had nobody to care for, is kept sober and industrious, or at any rate free from crime, by the feeling that others depend upon him for their daily bread. And the more helpless they are, the stronger is the hold upon him thus created. The same feeling exerts a powerful influence in the reformation of personal character. But under our present system, the State begins its task of reforming a criminal by taking away from him this most powerful of all incentives to reformation. He is separated from his family. Nothing that he can earn can be of any service to them. He is compelled to work, but nothing that he may do can be of the slightest advantage to them. They may starve while he is earning enough to support them. The State has reduced them to poverty and wretchedness, while it takes his earnings for its own use. Is there in this anything that can possibly tend to reform any man of ordinary human feelings? Is it not certain to embitter him,—to impress him with a sense of wrong toward the innocent, which cannot fail to make him more than ever the enemy of the State and of the law?

There are many other reasons that might be urged in favor of this reform. Now it happens constantly that the families of convicts are thrown, by their imprisonment, upon the counties in which they live for support. This is a burden which should be borne by the whole State, and not by any small portion of it. It is urged, we know, that the State Prisons should be self-supporting, and that in order to be so, the State must have all the earnings of the prisoners. It is very well, doubtless, to make them self-supporting if it can be done without sacrificing higher and more important objects. But it is not worth while to sacrifice the very objects for which prisons are established, in order to make them support themselves.

There is another point worthy of attention. An able article on this subject in the National Review mentions as a curious fact that convicts, however they may have been employed, are always emaciated and in bad health when they come out. Does not their diet sufficiently account for this? Is it possible for men, in prison or out, to grow stout and healthy on the food of a State Prison? Convicts, certainly, ought not to live in luxury. But it is no part of punishment proper for a prisoner to feed him so as to injure his health. This matter of State Prison diet, it seems to us, is worthy of some attention.

The Armament of the Monitors.

The "statement" which we published a few days ago in reply to our query as to the armament of the monitors, leaves that query still equally pointed and pertinent, while at the same time it contains some assertions not at all reconcilable with the received opinions as to the superiority of rifled ordnance over the smooth-bore gun for distant firing. We would premise, however, that it neither was nor is our intention to dogmatise as to the absolute value of the 15-inch smooth-bore as compared with the 8-inch rifle. Each has beyond a doubt qualities that render it more effective for special work than the other. Nor do we claim that either type of gun should be used in the armament of the monitors to the exclusion of the other. In fact, what we have complained of, and still complain of, is that the bureau of ordnance and construction is doing this very thing, as in the case of several of the new monitors confining their armament to the 15-inch smooth-bore, in face of the demonstrated superiority of the heavy rifle for the kind of work which the iron-clads are intended to perform in Charleston harbor.

The statement admits that "the peculiar property of the rifled gun is great range at high elevations, with, perhaps, greater accuracy than the smooth bore." Now, it seems to us that this "peculiar property" is an important essential in a siege or breaching gun. We presume, further, that this "great range" is due to the high velocity of the projectile. But to the "statement" again: "In a word, range at high elevations and the ability to cut away masonry and brickwork is the peculiar forte of the 8-inch rifled projectile." We are obliged to the author of the statement for the admissions made in the paragraphs quoted, for in them lies the gist of our query. It has been generally believed that the monitors were sent to Charleston, to "cut away" masonry and brick work, but if they have failed to accomplish their purpose, it must be because they are without the guns whose "peculiar property," it is acknowledged, is their "ability" to do this very work. If there be any one skeptical on the subject, we beg to refer him to the operations of Gen. Gillmore, who, at a fabulous range, destroyed Fort Sumter, while the monitors, at less than a thousand yards, did the fort no appreciable injury in April. If the fifteen-inch gun had length and weight, bearing due proportion to its calibre, and therefore sufficient to allow of its safely burning a charge of powder equal to the work expected of the gun, no one could deny its terribly destructive powers; but it would appear that the monitors have not yet been able to get within the good effective range of this feeble thunderer.

The opinion advanced, that if the "Weehawken had used an 8-inch rifled gun, the Atlanta would not have been a prize," we must receive as a mere "ex cathedra" assertion, which will have little weight with those who have studied the effects of rifled ordnance. The writer of the statement loses sight of the fact that the penetrative powers of projectiles are dependent on their velocities. It is a further mistake to assert that the 8-inch rifle, with its small muzzle, can receive no greater elevation in the turrets of the monitors than the huge 15-inch gun—a mistake the less pardonable in a statement claiming a semi-official authorship. Finally, the limited vitality of the 15-inch gun (confined to three hundred rounds, with 50 pounds of powder per charge,) must always be a prodigious objection to this gun. On the whole, we do not cease to think that the practical verdict pronounced on the relative merits of the two guns in the case of the Patapsco, (which has used its 8-inch rifle twelve times for every single time it has used its 15-inch smooth bore,) is of sufficient weight and significance to authorize at least one rifle in the armament of each monitor.

Our Naval Affairs—Speed and the Navy Department.—We publish in another column a second letter from Mr. E. A. Rutherford, who seems to be in this City as Chief Engineer of the Navy Department in carrying on its controversy with Mr. E. N. Dickerson. He certainly exhibits, in his peculiar sphere, what is greatly to be desired in every branch of the service, activity and zeal. In knowledge, courtesy and patriotic disinterestedness, he probably represents with sufficient accuracy the department he is seeking to serve.

We are obliged to Mr. Rutherford for the lecture he reads us for publishing Mr. Dickerson's letter. It seems that for so doing we are "judged very harshly by professional engineers." Nothing is more likely or more harmless. We shall continue to deserve their dislike. Whatever may happen to us as a result of this controversy, we are confident that it will render the public an essential service. We may be able to find out what sort of men are intrusted with the creation of a navy for the United States; what amount of scientific ability and skill they bring to the task; how willing they are to avail themselves of the improvements of the age; and what high-toned motives control their conduct of public affairs. As some two or three hundred millions of dollars are to be expended under their supreme direction, this knowledge cannot be without interest.

Mr. Rutherford seems to have been sent to this city by the department for a two-fold purpose. His first object is to convince the world that our vessels of war are really, in spite of appearances, fast; and to accomplish this object he has picked out one of them, the Eutaw, and proposes a race between her and some other vessel. We do not know that a victory won by the Eutaw would establish the character of our navy, though possibly it might. If it would, we fervently hope she will be victorious. Mr. Rutherford's second object seems to be the demolition of Mr. Dickerson. This may be more important to the Navy Department than it is to the world at large; but if it is to be accomplished, Mr. R. must resort to other means and appliances than the publication of private conversations.

We know very little of the merits of this controversy, and shall content ourselves, for the present at least, with allowing the belligerents to fight it out among themselves. Whether he is an engineer or not, Mr. Dickerson seems to be quite competent to take care of himself in the matter, and the Navy Department certainly does not need our assistance. We trust, therefore, that the contest will continue until something decisive shall be established by it.

The London Times and Federal Affairs.—In an article printed Jan. 5, the London Times sets forth, in its best style of Pro-Slavery grumbling, the alleged facts which convince it that the war is apparently interminable, and that the situation of affairs at the close of 1863 proves that no progress at all is made toward its conclusion. "It is evident," remarks the seer, "that the Federal possession of Eastern Tennessee, even if it can be maintained, will not bring the war nearer to a conclusion." The Richmond papers are of a different opinion, as is Mr. Jefferson Davis. These think East Tennessee the key to the whole military position, because they know it admits the holder into any one of their remaining States, unless they can keep the door shut by sheer superiority of force. "The blockade of the Southern coast," snarls this rheumatic Giant Grim of the press, "does not deprive the people of an ample supply of imported articles." Here, again, the Richmond prices current tell a very different story. 'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view. Those who live inside of the celebrated Southern Confederacy are of opinion that imported articles are most awkwardly scarce. Mr. Davis, for instance, in his last message, intimates that Wilmington is the only port left open at all, and that that is in danger of being closed. "Goods to the value of a million dollars arrive in Wilmington every four-and-twenty hours," avers the dissatisfied London giant. Of a million rebel dollars possibly. These are worth, delivered in New-York, from six to eight cents a pound avoirdupois to work over. But surely the Times is moderate. Why does it not repeat the last rebel report on this side that steamers were running into Wilmington twenty-three in one night? Why strain at a gnat? But most awful of all is the final groan of the Times over the expense at which "abolition" is prosecuted. These are its words:

"From Mr. Lincoln's Message to Congress, it appears that the total number of slaves the Federal armies have liberated is 100,000. This is the whole result of three years of war in the name of Abolition. And at an awful price it has been obtained. For every negro thus freed, it is calculated that three white men have been killed in the contest. If the four millions of blacks are only to be emancipated at the same cost, the calculation becomes something terrible, and the feelings of humanity will be appealed to in behalf of the superior race. The worst evil that has grown out of the system of Slavery is the war carried on to extinguish it."

Observe the air of sincere regret which pervades these rare perversions of truth and lamentations over the perils of Slavery. Mr. Lincoln's message shows no such statement as that which the Times makes out. But Mr. Lincoln did say that 100,000 liberated blacks had entered the military service of the United States. We used to read something like this line of argument in the Opposition journals of this City, but they seldom indulge in such kind of stuff now. Scarcely anybody is left, North or South, loyal or disloyal, who does not concede, that with barely reasonable good management, the next Spring or Summer must end the heavy fighting. This talk about the invincibility of the rebels is over, on this side of the water, and the London Times is reduced to the melancholy necessity of mumbling over again the worn-out libs which the falsifiers on this side have exhausted and ejected.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Harrison English Opera Company is meeting with the most encouraging success. Its continuance is placed beyond peradventure by a steady prosperity that leaves nothing but a larger house to be desired. The performance at Niblo's Saloon on Thursday evening was attended by a really brilliant audience, sufficient in every way to indicate that the "Bohemian Girl" is yet an attractive opera with the musical public. On the following night, at the Park Theatre, when Wallack's "Maritana" was given, the house was densely crowded, and hundreds were unable to gain admission. In the latter work an exceedingly interesting début was made by Miss Myers in the part of Lazarillo. We place the fact on record, and shall await a more fitting opportunity of speaking more fully of the young lady's merits. For the present, we shall not have the Harrison English opera company in this City. Niblo's Saloon is unfortunately engaged for the remainder of the month. Early in February, however, we are promised a series of entertainments of the highest interest. In the meantime, our Brooklyn friends have a monopoly of English opera. To-night the "Bohemian Girl" will be given by particular request. The performance of this work is now exceedingly smooth and creditable. The leading voices leave nothing to be desired, and the chorus is excellent. Whilst on the subject of the Park Theatre, we may mention that Miss Mary Shaw takes her benefit on Tuesday (to-morrow) evening, being assisted by her sister, Mrs. Hoey, of Wallack's Theatre. The announcement will undoubtedly fill the theatre to its greatest capacity.

Brooklyn also monopolizes our other musical establishment—the German opera—sparing us but a single night on Wednesday. Two performances will be given during this week, and two next at the Montague-street establishment. A delightful and admirably rendered opera is announced for to-night—"La Dame Blanche" by Boildieu. It was one of the most genuine successes of the past season, and is so melodious and unpretending that our neighbors would do well to feast upon it heartily as a necessary preparation for the Duke Humphrey's dinner of Wagner, called the "Tannhauser." We hear with much satisfaction that Mr. Anschutz will resume the bâton to-night. He has been seriously indisposed, and in welcoming him back to his desk, we mean no disrespect to that admirable musician Mr. Carl Bergmann, who at a moment's notice has done so well and in a way saved the enterprise from absolute ruin. The Wednesday's performance at our Academy, to which we have referred, will introduce us to Nicolai's famous opera, the "Merry Wives of Windsor." Mr. Herrman, the new and excellent basso, sustains his famous rôle of Falstaff.

A grand Charity Concert, in aid of the Fund of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of St. Ann's Church for Deaf Mutes, will take place at Irving Hall on Wednesday next. Mme. D'Angri, Miss Jennie Van Zandt, Miss Jennie E. Moss, Mme. Henriette Herz, Mr. Russell Glover, Signor Maccaferri, Signor Centemeri, Mr. Louis Schreiber and Signor Abella will assist in the musical part of the programme. An "Ode to Charity" will also be recited by Mr. J. A Conway, the author.

The second soirée of Chamber Music takes place to-morrow evening at Dodworth's Saloon, under the auspices of Messrs. Mason, Thomas, Mosenthal, Matzka and Bergner. The programme is as follows: 1. Quartette, B flat major, by Haydn. 2. Sonata, piano and violin, (A minor, opus 105,) by Schumann. 3. Quartette, E flat major, opus 127, by Beethoven.

The Oratorio of "Moses in Egypt" will be given by Mr. Benn, in the Hall of St. Francis Xavier's College, Sixteenth-street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, on Thursday evening, Jan. 28. The solos are by Mrs. Chas. H. Cooper, Mr. George Simpson and Mr. J. R. Thomas. The chorus will number upward of sixty voices, and the proceeds of the entertainment will be given to the Library fund of the College.

Mr. J. G. Saxe will read his humorous and patriotic poem called "Love," at Niblo's Saloon, on Wednesday evening next.

The German Liederkranz of New-York will give its annual Fancy Dress ball at the City Assembly Rooms, on Wednesday evening, the 3d of February. In order to prevent overcrowding, the price of tickets has been increased to five dollars. A list of the Committee will be found in our advertising columns, from whom the necessary documents can be obtained.

The announcements at the various theatres this week do not promise anything in the way of novelty—a sufficient proof that business is good. They are: At Wallack's, "Rosedale," for the eighty-second time; (the part hitherto played by Miss Gannon is now played by Miss Ione Burke, the first-named lady being, we are sorry to say, exceedingly unwell;) at the Winter Garden, Mr. and Mrs. Florence in the "Ticket-of-Leave Man;" at the Olympic, "A Bull in a China Shop" and "Mazeppa;" at Niblo's Garden, the "Connie Soogah;" at Niblo's Saloon, (to-morrow evening,) "Les Effrontes;" at Barnum's, "Camilla's Husband." By the way, Mr. Barnum delivers a lecture at the Cooper Institute on Wednesday evening, in aid of the "Sanitary Commission and Freedman's Society. The subject is The Art of Money Getting, and it will be illustrated by "four enormous Giants, the Madagascar Albino Family, the Tyrolean Whistler, the Lightning Calculator, the Living What is It? and Hiram Ziron, the performer on the Ammelynka!"

The Stereoscopticon at Hope Chapel is one of the best exhibitions of its kind in the world. It will repay a visit.

Barnum's American Museum.—A new drama, "Camilla's Husband," is brought out to-day at Barnum's Museum. It will, doubtless, have a good run. In the curiosity department is an important addition in the person of the great Arabian giant, the largest and finest man living. This makes four giants, a sight never beheld before in New-York. Barnum's announcement sets forth a host of interesting features.

Broadway Amphitheatre.—This establishment fully maintains its hold upon public favor, and has become a highly popular resort for families. The entertainments presented are of a character calculated to commend them to refined audiences, and include every variety of equestrian and acrobatic feats. The elegant equestrianism of Mme. Tourniaire, the extraordinary gymnastic exploits of the Spanola Brothers, and the other features announced for the present week will doubtless attract full houses both day and evening. The day entertainments, which are given every afternoon, afford the best opportunities for giving the little people a view of the wonders of the arena.

The Third Philharmonic Concert (Brooklyn).—This event happened on Saturday night at the Academy of Music, and was numerically miraculous, artistically delicious, and financially prosperous. The orchestral programme was fortunately confined to the stamp of music appreciable by the present generation, and was interpreted with great feeling by the large orchestra under the skillful conduct of Mr. Eisfeld. The pieces were Mozart's Symphony No. 4, in C, "Jupiter;" "Poeme Symphonique, Tasso," by Liszt, and Gade's Scotch overture, "In the Highlands." Mrs. Jennie Van Zandt and Signor Centemeri were the vocalists, while P. Eila, of the orchestra, emulated the Ancient Mariner, and played with great acceptability on the "loud bassoon." The gem of the evening was the "Poeme Tasso." The sombre lament and the brilliant triumph are so thoroughly and artistically expressed in this composition that it well deserves its title, "Lamento e Trionfo." Mrs. Van Zandt, a native of Brooklyn, has a voice of great purity, a power and reach of remarkable merit. Her execution is brilliant, and although the selections were by no means so popular as they might be, they afforded the fair débutante ample scope for a most gratifying display. Signor Centemeri, an artist of whom the public hear too little, sang the "Non Piu Andrai," admirably, and was heartily encored.

This Association will give an extra concert for the benefit of the Sanitary Fair on the 8th of February.

The Sanitary Promenade of the Brooklyn Thirteenth.—This crack regiment will shortly give a grand promenade concert in aid of the Sanitary fund

FROM ALBANY.

The Spirit of the Legislature—Gov. Seymour's Message Reviewed—The Cross-Town Three Cent Railroad—Canal Claims.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

ALBANY, Saturday, Jan. 23, 1864.

It is becoming every day more apparent that what has been termed by correspondents the amiability of the present Legislature by no means indicates irresolution on their part, or hesitancy to deal energetically with the important matters before them. The quiet which prevails evinces cool determination, and not indifference. The faction of the Legislature whose loyalty is questioned perceive that this is the case, and would undoubtedly like to make the current session a stormy one. The excitement which some of them represent as imminent, if not dangerous, so far as yet appears, will be limited to their own circle.

The aims and purposes of Union men are carried forward without bluster. The Republicans of the two Houses held a joint conference or caucus in the Assembly Chamber, last evening, with closed doors. This, of course, has increased the ferment, and excited the curiosity of the opposition.

The direct action of the Republicans in opposing disloyalty, so far as it has been made public, consists in a review of the Governor's Annual Message. In the Assembly, the duty of reviewing it devolved upon Mr. REDINGTON, of St. Lawrence, who was listened to on Wednesday evening by a large audience, and with close attention. On Thursday evening, Senator HAVENS, of Essex, took up and continued the review in the Senate. Though mild in manner, his criticism was exceedingly severe. These two have been the only set speeches of the session, but new members of the Assembly are beginning to take part in debate, and the speaking talent of the House bids fair to be soon in active exercise. A debate or discussion which occurred yesterday in relation to making provision for the comfort of troops returning to this State from United States service, was spirited, and called up several who have not before taken part in discussion. So far as an expression of sentiment is concerned, the soldiers will have nothing to complain of.

This morning a number of members seats in the House were vacant. Mr. MCCARTY, of Albany, moved a call of the House, but the House refused to order it. Numerous applications for leave of absence for absent members were then granted, until the House refused to grant more. Several attempts were made to adjourn over until Tuesday of next week. The Speaker decided that such resolutions giving rise to debate must lie upon the table under the rule. The regular routine of business then proceeded without further interruption. Mr. BENEDICT, of New-York, introduced a bill authorizing the construction of a railroad through Grand-street and other streets of New-York, the fare for passengers not to exceed three cents. The description of the route contained in the bill is as follows:

"Beginning at the eastern extremity of Grand-street, thence through and along Grand-street with a double track to Varick-street, thence through and along Varick-street with a double track to Watts-street, thence through and along Watts-street with a double track to Greenwich-street, thence through and along Greenwich-street with a single track to Canal-street, thence through and along Canal-street with a single track to West-street, thence through and along Canal-street with a double track to Washington-street, thence through and along Washington-street to Watts-street, thence through and along Watts-street with a single track to and connecting with the double track at the intersection of Watts-street."

The Committee on the Judiciary reported that in their opinion the Legislature may pass a law by which the State can release its interest in lands to aliens without publishing notice thereof, as now required by statute.

Mr. BLAKESLEE, of Oneida, presented a plan, in the form of a resolution, for adjusting the numerous canal claims made, year by year, against the State, but not for the most part allowed by the Legislature. After a preamble, in which is set forth the responsibility which the State assumes in acting as a private corporation, and thus giving just grounds for claims which should be adjudicated, the resolutions read:

Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to report a bill embodying the following general principles: First, the claimant to be allowed to commence proceedings against the State by filing a statement with the Supreme Court Justice of the district in which the claim arose, the statement to be verified by his own affidavit and the affidavits of at least two respectable freeholders of the State or town in which the claim may have originated, and by giving bail for costs of investigation if no award be made as in his favor. Second. Giving the Supreme Court Justice jurisdiction with power to appoint a referee, (which referee may be the Canal Appraiser,) to investigate and report the evidence to the Court, or report an award upon evidence, as the Court may direct. Third. The decision on each and every claim to be final, subject, however, to an appeal to the Court above. Fourth. Such further provisions as may be necessary in the opinion of the Committee to carry out the above general principles.

After further efforts to adjourn over until Tuesday, all of which failed, by the strict rendering of the rule which the Speaker has adopted, (requiring such resolutions to lie on the table for debate) the House finally adjourned to meet again at 11 o'clock A. M. on Monday.

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA.

Capture of a Rebel Mail—Views of the Amnesty Proclamation—Sufferings in Rebeldom.

HEADQUARTERS, WEST VIRGINIA, Jan. 24, 1864.

We have captured a rebel mail. The secrets of the mail bag are curious, interesting, and, in one or two instances, highly important.

Almost all of the letters contain remarks on the President's Amnesty Proclamation.

The sufferings anticipated in rebeldom, the disaffected state of the citizens of the South, the complaints of the soldiers, the manner in which rebel officers high in position are spoken of, &c., all serve, in very many respects, to confirm the reports in circulation in the Northern papers regarding the condition of the Confederacy.

One lady, in replying to another, says: "Your description of the President pains me. I had hopes for better things. It is true we are despondent; but our hope for the future is still strong." This woman admits being a heavy property holder.

The weather continues very mild; but the common roads are hardly in passable condition for heavy trains and artillery.

Several prominent citizens and rebel officers, one of them a widely-known ex-foreign minister, are negotiating to come within our lines under the President's Amnesty Proclamation.

Arrest of an Officer for Fraud.

BALTIMORE, Sunday, Jan. 24.

Col. PIER, of the First Connecticut Cavalry, until recently Provost-Marshal of Baltimore, was arrested to-day by order of the Secretary of War, on charge of fraud and corruption.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Saturday, Jan. 23.

Sailed, steamer Golden City, for Panama, with $1,036,000 in treasure for England and $450,000 for New-York, and about fifty passengers.

Non-Arrival of the Canada.

HALIFAX, Sunday, Jan. 24—8 P. M.

There are no signs of the Canada. The weather is thick and mild, with indications of rain.

Catarrh is often a Form of Throat Disease which creates a perpetual desire to swallow, as if something were sticking in the upper part of the Throat. Brown's Bronchial Troches are used with good results in this annoying disorder.

Morton's Gold Pens are now sold at the same prices as before the commencement of the war; this is entirely owing to the Manufacturer's improvements in machinery, his present large Retail Business and Cash-in-Advance System; for, until he commenced advertising, his business was done on Credit and strictly with the Trade.

The Morton Gold Pens are the only ones sold at old prices, as the makers of all other gold pens charge the Premium on the Gold, Government Tax, &c.; but Morton has in no case changed his prices, Wholesale or Retail.

Of the great numbers sent by mail to all parts of the world during the past few years, not one in a thousand has failed to reach its destination in safety; showing that the Morton Gold Pen can be obtained by any one, in every part of the world, at the same price, postage only excepted.

Reader, you can have an enduring, always ready, and reliable Gold Pen, exactly adapted to your hand and style of writing, which will do your writing vastly cheaper than Steel Pens; and at the present almost universal High-Pressure Price of everything, you can have a Morton Gold Pen cheaper, in proportion to the labor spent upon it and material used, than any other Gold Pen in the World. If you want one, see "The Pen is Mightier than the Sword," in another column.

Gold Pens—THE BEST AND THE CHEAPEST. AT A. MORTON'S, No. 25 MAIDEN-LANE, New-York

A Letter from Dr. B. C. Perry.

NEW YORK, Jan., 1864.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

SIR: One of the most annoying difficulties connected with the Hair and its diseases is Dandruff, in its various phases. Its philosophy being very little understood, I will give my views on the subject for the benefit of those afflicted.

There are to the square inch of the scalp three thousand pores, for the purposes of throwing off the secretions or fluid matter that forms between the cuticle and the inner or sensitive skin. If from any cause, such as to neglect to keep the scalp clean, or from the use of glutinous oils, the pores become partially closed, the remaining portion are overtasked, the cuticles somewhat debilitated, the pores fail to perform their functions, inasmuch as only the limpid or more etherial portions of the secretions can pass off, leaving a white, bran-like substance deposited on the scalp, called Dandruff; this is the first phase of the difficulty.

When more of the pores are closed by exhaustion, less of the limped secretions flow off; the deposit on the scalp assumes a yellow, sticky appearance, and is called thickened secretion. This is the second phase of dandruff. The third phase is when most of the pores are closed, the cuticle completely debilitated; none of the fluid portions of the secretions can pass off; the deposit adheres closely to the scalp; has the appearance of yellow matter, and is called matterated secretion, which inevitably results in loss of hair. If at this stage of the disease it is not arrested by a proper course of treatment, it finally terminates in EXEMA, one of the most difficult diseases of the scalp for a physician to manage.

As to the remedy—Nature is always true to herself. If the scalp is kept clean, and the pores not glued up with oils or pomades, the secretions will pass off, and such a thing as dandruff would not be known, and people would not lose their hair. But when a difficulty of the kind does exist, it should be treated rationally. It is little use to remove the effect while the cause exists. Dandruff in its first stages is early cured, and it should receive the earliest attention, as it is one of the primary causes of diseases of the scalp and loss of hair. For further information I can be consulted free of charge for all diseases of the scalp that destroy the hair or induces premature blanching, at my office, No. 49 Bond-st., New-York.

Hoyt's Hiawatha Hair Restorative differs from dyes. Dyes impart a uniform dead black color to the hair, so that different persons have the same colored hair; the Hiawatha restores the hair to its original color and preserves the harmony between the complexion and color of the hair. Dyes require soaping and washing and hours for application; the Hiawatha is as readily applied as any hair dressing. Dyes stain the skin wherever they touch it; the Hiawatha is wiped away like any dressing for the hair. Dyes make the hair gummy and dirty; the Hiawatha cleanses it from all impurities. Dyes color the hair by mere contact with it and are washed off; the color the Hiawatha gives cannot be washed out. The Hiawatha restores the natural shading of the hair. Which is preferable?

FIRST WARD UNION ASSOCIATION.

A special meeting of the First Ward Union Association will be held on THURSDAY EVENING, Jan. 28, 1864, at 7½ o'clock, at No. 52 Greenwich-st. All members are respectfully requested to attend.

D. H. PRINTUP, President.
FRANK JORDAN, Secretary.

AT A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE UNION Central Committee of the City and County of New-York, held at headquarters, corner of Broadway and 23d-st., on Saturday evening, Jan. 23, 1864, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The time has come when the approaching Presidential election should receive the attention of the country;

And Whereas, Spontaneous movements of the people have already indicated the popular choice:

And whereas, These movements, originating in gratitude and patriotism, have arisen simultaneously in such remote States as New-Hampshire and California, as Indiana and Pennsylvania, and may await only a formal expression in New-York, therefore,

Resolved, That as delegates to the Regular Union Central Committee of the metropolis of the country, freshly chosen to this representative organization by the loyal electors of our respective districts, we do but give utterance to the will of our constituents when we declare that the cause of American nationality and of constitutional liberty demands the reelection of ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Resolved, That the popular current which carried ANDREW JACKSON into a second term was not, at the same relative period, more resistless than that which now sustains and bears onward our eminent President; and history will have warned in vain if political leaders shall fail in submission to the manifest will of the people.

Resolved, That the unbounded popularity of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, both with the loyal citizens and the brave soldiers of the Republic, attests the public recognition of his unquestioned honesty, his unselfish patriotism, and his transcendent sagacity. Cheerful when others have desponded, serious when others were elated, thoughtful when others were precipitate, and pressing onward when others have halted—he has labored for the Nation's life, until his countrymen have hailed him as a benefactor.

Resolved, That the reelection of ABRAHAM LINCOLN and the extension of his constitutional sway over the revolted States, (extinguishing the hope of traitors at home and of tyrants abroad,) will forever demonstrate the stability of the American Government and the justice of the American people.

Resolved, That the National Committee be requested to take early action in calling a National Convention for the nomination of a candidate for President and Vice-President.

THE U. S. SANITARY COMMISSION
Is in urgent want of funds. Its operations for the relief of the army were never more extensive and effective than now. Its depots and agents are at every military centre, from Washington to the Rio Grande. The money value of the supplies it issued to the Army of the Potomac during and immediately after Gettysburgh, exceeded seventy thousand dollars. Its issues at Chattanooga were on a like scale. Thousands of men needing "Special Relief" are daily cared for in its "Homes." Its steamboats and wagon trains follow our soldiers everywhere. Its other and equally important departments of work, Sanitary Inspection, Hospital Inspection, Hospital Directory, Transportation of the sick and wounded, &c., are in full operation. The cost of all this life saving work is not less than forty-five thousand dollars per month. Its funds are now much reduced, and immediate contributions are requested to sustain it.

The Fairs that have been got up with such admirable and unprecedented energy and success in Chicago, Cincinnati and Boston, though reported everywhere as "for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission," have not as yet contributed a dollar to its treasury. The large sums thus raised have been received by the branches of the Commission at those cities respectively.

These branches apply them most usefully, mainly to the purchase of material to be made up into clothing, bedding, &c., and for like purposes. They thus relieve the treasury of the Commission from the necessity of purchasing supplies belonging to certain classes. But they render no aid to any other department of its work.

Those who desire fuller information as to the organization, method and cost of the Commission are referred to a statement of its system and of the application of its funds just published, copies of which may be had on application at the office of the United States Sanitary Commission, No. 823 Broadway, or at the bookstore of A. D. F. Randolph, No. 683 Broadway.

It is submitted to all humane and patriotic men that the Commission has saved, and is daily saving lives the country cannot afford to lose; what it is doing to economise the life and health of our soldiers is worth to the country ten times the money the Commission has received, and is of direct practical importance to every one interested in diminishing the cost and the duration of the war.

Contributions may be sent to the Treasurer, at No. 68 Wall-st., or No. 823 Broadway, New-York.

By order of the Standing Committee,
GEORGE T. STRONG,
Treasurer United States Sanitary Commission.

TESTIMONIAL FROM ONE OF THE MOST RESPECTABLE CITIZENS OF NEW-YORK.
DEAFNESS AND CATARRH CURED.

No. 420 SIXTH-AV., NEW-YORK, Dec. 2, 1863.

I was deaf for several years, and hearing of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I was induced to place myself under his care, and I am now happy to state that my hearing was entirely restored after a short treatment. I was also suffering from chronic catarrh, of which I was also cured by the skillful treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg. I do but justice to the Doctor in stating that in treating me he displayed that skill and knowledge which have already procured for him such a deserved reputation, and that the principles which direct his system of curing Deafness and Catarrh are such as to render success certain, in my opinion. Many months have passed since Dr. Von Eisenberg restored my hearing, and it continues as good as ever.

CATARRH CURED.
READ!

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were constantly obstructed with a pouring fluid. That frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, often attended with a fullness of my throat, great soreness, and a continual dropping. Dr. Von Eisenberg has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I may, indeed, say that I feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful. It is in my opinion impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

Iconsulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 29, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

GLAD NEWS FOR THE UNFORTUNATE!
THE LONG SOUGHT FOR DISCOVERED AT LAST.
CHEROKEE REMEDY
AND
CHEROKEE INJECTION!
COMPOUNDED FROM ROOTS, BARKS AND LEAVES.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

☞ It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

☞ It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ For full particulars, get our pamphlet from any drug-store in the country, or write us, and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

☞ Price, CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

☞ Price, CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

CHEROKEE CURE!
THE GREAT
INDIAN MEDICINE,
COMPOUNDED FROM
ROOTS, BARKS AND LEAVES.

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-pollution; such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficulty of Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the Direful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract, and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars, get a Circular from any Drug Store in the country, or write the Proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatise in pamphlet form.

CHICAGO AND GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY,
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
FOR $2,000,000.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS OPENED WITH
Messrs. SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, Bankers,
No. 21 Nassau-st., New-York.

The Chicago and Great Eastern Railway Company now offer for sale one million one hundred thousand dollars of their first mortgage Bonds, in sums of one thousand dollars each, maturing in fifty years, bearing interest at the rate of Seven per cent. per annum, payable in the City of New-York, on the first days of April and October, in each year.

These bonds are secured by a first and only Mortgage on the property, income and franchises of the Railway Company, executed to Frederick Schuchardt and Henry Morgan, of the City of New-York, Trustees.

The remaining nine hundred thousand dollars of the Bonds are set apart and remain in the hands of the said Trustees, for the purpose of being exchanged for the indebtedness of the Chicago and Cincinnati Railroad Company, running from La Crosse to Logansport; this effected, the $2,000,000 will form a first and only mortgage on a line of road 110 miles in length, extending from Chicago to Lawrenceburgh, where it connects with the Cincinnati and Chicago Air-line Railroad, forming the shortest line by 40 miles, between Chicago and Cincinnati, and by 26 miles the shortest line between Louisville and Chicago.

It will also open, in connection with roads now in operation, entirely new and very direct lines from Chicago to New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and all Eastern cities. The distance between Chicago and New-York by this route being shorter than by either of the existing lines via Dunkirk or Buffalo.

The road is now under contract, and the most strenuous efforts are being made to have it open for traffic during the Summer of 1864.

The interest on the Bonds maturing during the progress of the work has been provided for, and will remain on deposit with the Bankers of the Company, Messrs SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, No. 21 Nassau-st., to whom the Company refer for further particulars, and where subscription books for this loan have been opened.

INCREASED CAPITAL.

Cash Capital.....$300,000
Surplus over.....$200,000 Assets over.....$850,000

This Company, with net assets amounting to more than half a million of dollars safely invested, is prepared to offer increased facilities to insurers against loss or damage by fire, and the risks of inland navigation or transportation.

The attention of the public is directed to the peculiar advantages offered to the assured by this Company.

1. In having a cash capital all paid in and safely invested.

2. In the accumulation of profits forming a surplus of over two hundred thousand dollars, and constantly increasing and liable for the losses of the Company.

3. In the issue of 40 per cent. of the profits in scrip, bearing 6 per cent. interest, payable annually in cash to customers on all Participation Policies.

Parties insuring with the above Company enjoy all the advantages afforded by a paid in and safely invested cash capital, with the economy and security of the mutual system.

No liability whatever incurred by the assured.

A liberal reduction in the premium made to customers preferring non-participation policies.

MEDICAL.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.
The vast increase in the demand for these COUGH LOZENGES, and the numerous testimonials constantly received, fully justify the Proprietor in asserting they are the best and safest yet offered to the public for the cure of the following complaints: ASTHMA, WINTER COUGH, HOARSENESS, SHORTNESS OF BREATH, and other PULMONARY MALADIES.
They have deservedly obtained the high patronage of their Majesties the King of Prussia and the King of Hanover; very many, also, of the nobility and clergy, and of the public generally, use them, under the recommendation of some of the most eminent of the Faculty.
Prepared and sold in boxes and tins of various sizes by THOMAS KEATING, No. 79 St. Paul's Churchyard, London. Retail by all Druggists, &c., in the world.
N. B.—To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "Keating's Cough Lozenges" are engraved on the Government stamp of each box, without which none are genuine.
Sold in New-York by Messrs. Hegeman & Co., Joseph Horsey & Co., Druggists; and Mr. Theodore Metcalfe, Druggist, Boston.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. DR. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris, and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call: it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send, or write for a circular.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others have failed. A cure guaranteed. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. Tae men to consult. Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedy in the world; guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

AFFLICTED RESTORED! IGNORANCE EXPOSED! FALLACIES UNMASKED!—Highly important to both sexes, married or single, in health or disease. Dr. LARMONT'S Paris, London and New-York Medical Adviser and Marriage Guide, 80th edition, over 400 pages, nearly 100 neure illustrations upon mental and nervous debility, urinary deposits, involuntary loss of semen, impotency, affections of the bladder and kidneys, genito-urinary diseases and their consequences, the anatomy of the sexual organs of the male and female, latest researches in physiology; European hospital practice; quacks, recipes and specifics; the author's unequaled Paris and London treatment, &c. Mailed for $1, closely sealed, by the publisher, E. WARNER, No. 1 Vesey-st., Astor House.
All who would avoid unsuccessful and barbarous treatment with mercury, copaiba, injections, cauterizations, quack specifics, antidotes, instruments, &c., should read this original book, or consult the Doctor, No. 173 Broadway, (up stairs,) New-York, from 10 to 5.
"We concur with other papers in recommending Dr. Larmont and his work."—Courrier des Etats Unis, Dispatch, Staats Zeitung, Atlas, Medical Review, &c.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Maintained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st., New-York.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 166th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 128 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Restored in four weeks by Dr. RICORD'S ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent will restore manhood to the most shattered constitution, whether arising from excesses, self-abuse, the effects of climate or natural causes. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is four weeks. Failure is impossible. Dr. RICORD'S Essence of Life is sold in cases, with instructions for use, for $3, or four quantities in one for $9, sent, carefully packed, on receipt of remittance, by his accredited agent,
PHILIP ROLAND, No. 447 Broome-st., One door west from Broadway. New-York.

ADVICE TO MARRIED OR SINGLE LADIES, who require a safe and cer ain remedy for removing obstructions, from whatever cause, can rely upon the celebrated INFALLIBLE FRENCH FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS, price $1 a box, to restore the monthly sickness in forty-eight hours, if of short standing; but obstinate cases, of long standing, may require No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy; price $3 a box. Sold at No. 347 Broadway, and No. 403 Hudson-st., New-York; or sent by mail, with full instructions, by addressing Box No. 2,359 New-York Post-office.

DR. COBBETT, MEMBER OF THE N. Y. University, (Medical College,) and Royal College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to his present very convenient suite of offices at No. 22 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., with a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs; thirty years in his present specialty, (three of which have been at the Hospitals of this City,) enable him to guarantee a cure in every case undertaken, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAYBE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra, seminal weakness brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured or no charge made.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st., N. Y.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

SKIN DISEASES CURED.—LADIES AND gentlemen loosing their hair, or turning gray, can have it permanently restored by F. TAYLOR, No. 435 3d-av., four doors below 32d-st. Office hours from 9 A. M., to 5 P. M. From No. 683 Broadway.

EDWARD H. DIXON, M. D., EDITOR OF the SCALPEL, attends exclusively to operative surgery and the more obscure diseases of the Pelvic Viscera. Office hours from 8 to 9 and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9, evenings, at No. 42 5th-av.

CURED GRATIS.—EPILEPTIC AND ALL nervous fits cured by JOHN McDONALD, free of charge, who may be consulted for the same at the Stevens' House, No. 21 and 23 Broadway, every morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.

BAKER'S KIDNEY AND GRAVEL REMEdies are the best known. Consultation by letter, or in person, at No. 154 10th-st., near Broadway. Fee, $5, including remedies.

SULPHUR AND VAPOR BATHS—ESTABlished in 1820. The only genuine baths in the United States, at No. 1 Carroll-place, Bleecker-st., corner of Laurens, for cure of rheumatism, mercurial affections, &c. Given daily by Dr. A. L. TIMOLAT & CO.

HUNDREDS ARE RUINED BEYOND redemption in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first: he has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has cured no less than fifty thousand cases. His remedies are mild, and there is no interruption to business or change of diet. Dr. HUNTER is in constant attendance from 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st. Charges moderate and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, Dr. Hunter's Red Drops, cures certain diseases when regular treatment, and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. It is $1 a vial, with a medical work on Human Frailty, Nervous Debility, Early Indiscretion, and consultation gratis.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS,
MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.
Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

NEW MUSIC.
"One at Home who Prays for Me."—song and chorus.
"My Lowland Home."—song and chorus, by Henry Tucker, composer of "When this Cruel War is over."
"Dear Mother I've Come Home to Die." &c.

STEINWAY & SONS'
GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the Gold Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.
The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 82 and 84 Walker-st., New-York.

RAVEN & BACON,

COOPER INSTITUTE.
A MUSEUM NIGHT FOR THE BENEFIT
OF THE
SANITARY COMMISSION AND FREEDMAN'S SOCIETY,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT, Jan. 27.
P. T. BARNUM has volunteered to give his celebrated Lecture on THE ART OF MONEY-GETTING, in the large hall of COOPER INSTITUTE, on the above evening—illustrating the same with the following most extraordinary Living Wonders from his Museum:
FOUR ENORMOUS GIANTS,
Anna Swan, Monsieur Joseph, the French Giant; Col. Goshen, the Arab Giant, and the Giant Boy. Also,
THE MADAGASCAR ALBINO FAMILY.
THE TYROLEAN WHISTLER,
who plays three whistles at once.
THE LIGHTNING CALCULATOR.
THE LIVING WHAT IS IT?
HERR ZIROM, (late of the Museum,) has kindly volunteered to perform a solo on the Emmelynka or common mouth harmonicon.
The entire gross receipts to be handed to the Treasurer of the U. S. Sanitary Commission: one-half to be devoted to its forthcoming great Metropolitan Fair in New-York, and the other half to the National Freedman's Society.
Mr. Barnum's lecture was delivered with great eclat at the St James' Hall, in London, England, seven ten times, and repeated sixty times in various parts of Great Britain in 1 50, and also given with much success in different American cities.

London Daily Telegraph, Dec. 30.
The hall was completely full in every part. Mr. Barnum's method of telling an anecdote is exactly suited to the extraction of its most telling points. His address may be heartily recommended as highly entertaining and interesting, and may be listened to with attention and profit by people of every class

London Leader.
His views on money-making are clearly correct.

Doors open at 7; commence at 8 o'clock.

per acre. You will give preference in all cases to heads of families and to married women whose husbands are engaged in the service of the United States, or are necessarily absent.

2. You will permit each soldier, sailor or marine actually engaged in the service of the United States, or any who may have been, or hereafter shall be honorably discharged, to preempt and purchase in person or by authorized agent at the rate of One dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, one tract of twenty acres of land if single, and if married, two tracts of twenty acres each, in addition to the amount a head of family, or married woman in the absence of her husband, is allowed to preempt and purchase under the general privilege to loyal persons.

3. Each preemptor, on filing his claim and receiving his certificate of preemption, must pay in United States notes, two-fifths of the price, and the residue on receiving a deed for the parcels of land preempted, and a failure to make complete payment on receipt of the deed will forfeit all rights under the preemption, as well as all partial payments for the land.

4. When persons authorized to purchase by preemption desire to enter upon and cultivate lands not yet surveyed, they may do so; but they will be required to conform in their selections as nearly as possible to the probable lines of the surveys, and to take and occupy them subject to correction of title and occupation by actual surveys when made.

5. In making surveys, such reservation for paths and roadways will be made as will allow easy and convenient access to the several subdivisions entered for sale and occupancy by preemption or otherwise.

(Signed,) A. LINCOLN.

Approved Dec. 31, 1863.

These instructions, it will be seen, apply to all, soldiers as well as citizens. The superintendents and teachers in this department are hereby directed to give their entire attention to the carrying out of these instructions, and to assist the people to the extent of their power in locating, staking out their claims, and securing their title deeds under this order of the President, which, in its benefacent results, is to be second only to the Proclamation of Emancipation. I also recommend the people to lose no time in preempting their claims, and in preparing their grounds for the coming harvest. The foundation of all national wealth and prosperity is in the soil. No people can be truly prosperous who neglect its cultivation.

Freedmen, you should plow deep, plant carefully and in season, cultivate diligently, and you will reap abundant harvests. First provide for an ample supply of corn and vegetables, then remember that cotton is the great staple here. I advise you to plant all you can of it. So profitable was its culture in the old days of Slavery that your former masters said "Cotton is King." It is expected that you will show in a free South that cotton is more of a king than ever.

R. SAXTON, Brig.-Gen. and Military Governor.

On Sunday last, Gen. SAXTON visited St. Helena's Island, for the purpose of explaining to the contrabands the tenor of the orders relating to the sale of lands. He was received by a large concourse, who listened to him attentively, and at the conclusion of his remarks testified their appreciation for the favor rendered.

Measures have been taken to carry out the object of the order relating to the formation of a colored corps. Col. LITTLEFIELD is now at Washington on business connected with that subject. By referring to General Orders No. 8, hereby annexed, it will be seen that Capt. W. L. M. BURGER, the popular and efficient Assistant Adjutant-General to Gen. GILLMORE, is assigned to the charge of the Bureau for enlisting and organizing colored troops in the department. With such hands engaged, the enterprise must necessarily succeed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH, HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, FOLLY ISLAND, S. C., Jan. 15, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 7.—I. In compliance with the provisions of General Orders No. 6, current series, from these Headquarters, Col. M. S. LITTLEFIELD, Twenty-first regiment U. S. colored troops, is appointed President, and Capt. JAMES E. DUNGAN, of the same regiment, Recorder of the Board for the examination of white persons for officers of colored regiments, organized or to be organized, in this Department.

II. Col. M. S. LITTLEFIELD, Twenty-first regiment U. S. colored troops, is appointed General Superintendent of the recruiting service for colored regiments in this Department, and will be charged with the payment of all bounties to colored recruits.

By command of Maj.-Gen. Q. A. GILLMORE.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH, HILTON HEAD, S. C., Jan. 19, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 8.—I. Capt. W. L. M. BURGER, Assistant-Adjutant General, is hereby relieved from the operation of General Orders No. 67, series of 1863, from these headquarters, assigning him to duties in connection with the Engineer Department, and is assigned to duty in charge of the Bureau for enlisting and organizing colored troops in this Department. All reports and correspondence relating thereto, requiring to be sent to these headquarters, will be addressed to him.

II. Maj. J. W. ABBEY, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, is hereby announced as Assistant Engineer, and will relieve Capt. BURGER in his duties connected with the correspondence and orders relating to the Engineer Department.

By command of Maj.-Gen. Q. A. GILLMORE.

EDW. SMITH, Asst.-Adjt.-Gen.

Official: W. L. M. BURGER, Asst.-Adjt.-Gen.

I am informed by an officer who arrived last week in the transport Thomas A. Scott, that a difficulty occurred between the conscripts and officers on board, in consequence of which an innocent soldier was severely wounded by a pistol shot discharged by the commanding officer at one of the mutinous party. Before leaving port, the conscripts threatened to kill the officers and run the vessel aground on the Southern coast, and then escape into Dixie. On the second day out, some fifty or more of the number went below and set the water running from the tanks. The Lieutenant-Colonel Commanding went below to restore order, but upon the party making a show of resistance he drew his pistol and fired, causing the result above recorded. Several of the insurgents were then confined in irons and on the arrival of the vessel here given over to the custody of the Provost-Marshal. The Thomas A. Scott was unprovided with a Surgeon. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Shipments to Contraband Ports.

Through the vigilance of Surveyor ANDREWS, Marshal MURRAY, and the Inspectors of Customs, the shipments of merchandise to "contraband ports," to be there reladen and run through the blockade, has virtually ceased. These officers have been untiring in their efforts to have this illicit trade broken up, and the guilty parties punished. Upon all vessels now loading for Southern ports, for Nassau and other ports of similar character, the cargo is rigidly examined by the inspectors, and the chances of goods contraband of war escaping their vigilence are few, and far between.

It was by Surveyor ANDREWS' instructions that the steamship Corsica was so thoroughly overhauled and her passengers searched by the inspectors in charge of Deputy-Surveyor BROWN and Assistant-Surveyor VAN BOSKERCK, which resulted in bringing to light the evidence of the guilt of parties engaged in the contraband trade; and which elicited such a howl from the Nassau press, showing that the blockade-runners had been hit in a tender spot.

It is a matter of rejoicing that this trade is thoroughly broken up, and the officers named deserve the thanks of every loyal man for the vigilance which has accomplished this result.

The Great Naval Race.

NOTE FROM ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOX—HE DISCLAIMS ANY KNOWLEDGE OF MR. RUTHERFORD.

The following note from Mr. Assistant Secretary Fox to Mr. OLYPHANT was received through our naval reporter at twelve o'clock last night. Mr. Fox, it will be seen, denies that he knows Mr. RUTHERFORD, to whose letter, as the statement of an authorized agent of the Navy Department, we have given a place elsewhere.

Mr. Assistant Secretary Fox, of the Navy Department, writes that RUTHERFORD, the pretended agent of the Navy Department, is either a myth or an impostor. In reply to Mr. OLYPHANT, Mr. FOX writes:

NAVY DEPARTMENT, Jan. 23, 1864.

To R. M. Olyphant, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: In last evening's New-York Post I notice our correspondence published. I have not yet received your letter (11 A. M.), but have no doubt of its correctness, as therein printed, notwithstanding some person by the name of RUTHERFORD—unknown to me—seems to be assuming himself by instituting a public correspondence. I know nothing of the speed of the Kin Kiang, but as she is a smaller vessel than the Eutaw, with a larger engine, and built expressly for Chinese waters, where the highest speed is required, the race cannot but be interesting to those who consider that great speed is the only requisite for a man-of-war.

I regret the Navy Department has no authority to pay any expenses incurred by your vessel in the contemplated race. This, however, cannot prevent a friendly competion. The amount necessary to give the Kin Kiang a few days run must be very small, and can be easily raised by subscription. Provided $3,000 will cover it, I will guarantee that sum to you.

I suggest that both boats be sent to Hampton Roads, and that the race be thence to New-York. I name this point because several of the Naval Committee of the House desire to witness it. I will be at your office, No. 48 South-street, during Monday, to arrange the matter.

Very respectfully, G. J. FOX.

Arrival of the Fifth Connecticut Regiment.

Last evening the Fifth Connecticut regiment, 290 strong, arrived in this City from Cowan, Tennessee, all of whom have reenlisted for the war. The Fifth has participated in the following battles: Second battle of Winchester, Cedar Mountain, Chancellorsville and Gettysburgh, besides a number of minor skirmishes. This regiment was quartered for the night at the Park Barracks; this morning, at 8 o'clock, it leaves for Hartford, Conn. Annexed is a list of the officers:

Colonel, Warren W. Packer; Lieutenant-Colonel, Henry W. Daboll; Major, W. S. Cogswell: Adjutant, W. A. Daniels; Assistant Surgeons, Andrew J. Gilson, Evelyn L. Bissel; Quartermaster, E. K. Carley; Captains, Charles Sanford, Charles Doyle, Madison P. Waitney, Alfred L. Packer, Wm. C. Rockwell, Alfred A. Chinev, Wm. P. Smith, Theodore H. Dibble, Adolphus P. Riley; Lieutenants, George Raymond, —— Whitlock, Alvin H. Hart, Walter Burns, Isaac Weldon, Eugene H. Cobey, Michael Donovan, Charles Reynolds, George Titus, Haslem P. Rugg, Edwin E. Carter, Albert L. Gavitt, Wm. S. Furluton, Perry P. Wilson, James Stewart, Isaac Kelium.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND SECOND NEW-YORK VETERAN VOLUNTEERS.—This veteran City regiment reached New-York yesterday afternoon, and is quartered in the Park Barracks. It comes home on veteran furlough to recruit, every man of its 258 survivors here persons having reënlisted. The regiment was organized in December, 1861, and left for Virginia in March, 1862, 937 strong, under Col. VAN BUREN. Its battle-roll is as follows, omiting minor affairs: Bolivar Heights, Cedar Mountain, White Sulphur Springs, Chantilly, (in reserve,) Antietam, The Wilderness, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Lookout Mountain, (where it was first in the advance of the skirmishers, and took three or four times as many prisoners as it contained men,) Missionary Ridge and Ringgold. Col. VAN BUREN has left the regiment. Its Lieutenant-Colonel is in this City with a leg shot off; its Major was killed at Lookout; and it has in all, eleven staff and line officers left, viz.: L. R. Siegman, Captain commanding; Adj. Crafts, Quartermaster Howland, Surgeon Lord, Assistant-Surgeon Applegate, Capt. Van Buren, and Lieuts. Brereton, Hathaway, Davis, McCarty and McGuire.

MEETING OF THE UNION CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—There was a special meeting of the Union Central Committee held on Saturday evening, at their hall, corner of Broadway and Twenty-third-street, which was largely attended. The principal business of the meeting was the introduction and adoption, unanimously, of a preamble and resolutions supporting ABRAHAM LINCOLN for reëlection to the Presidency. WILLIAM A. DARLING presided. The meeting adjourned at an early hour.

LARGE FIRE IN A COOPER SHOP.—Yesterday morning a fire broke out in a large four-story building, rear of Nos. 234 and 236 Cherry-street, owned and occupied by Mr. A. T. BARNES, as a cooper shop. The building and contents were entirely destroyed. Loss on building, $6,000; on stock, $4,000; fully insured in City Companies. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary. Fire Marshal BAKER is making an investigation.

A FIREMAN KILLED.—About 4 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, WILLIAM FARRELL, member of Engine Company No. 39, while going to a fire, was run over and instantly killed by Engine Company No. 15, at the corner of Eighth-avenue and Thirty-first street. Coroner RANNEY will hold an inquest over the body this morning.

FATAL CAR ACCIDENT.—A lad aged 6 years, named CHARLES FUNCK, residing with his parents at No. 96 Avenue A, while flying a kite in front of his home, last evening, was knocked down and run over by a car of the Forty-second-street Ferry Railroad. One of his legs was severed from his body, and the other was badly injured. No hopes are entertained of his recovery.

LECTURE OF CORA L. V. HATCH.—A large audience assembled last evening at Clinton Hall, Astor-place, to listen to a lecture delivered by Mrs. CORA L. V. HATCH. As a disturbance was anticipated, a squad of policemen was present to keep order. Their services, however, were not needed.

Mutiny.

BOSTON, Sunday, Jan. 24.

The new ship Coromandel sailed hence yesterday afternoon for London. When twenty miles outside of Bostop light, a mutiny occurred among the crew, and one man was badly stabbed. The ship put back to Nantucket Roads, and the wounded man, the assassin, and one witness were brought to this city. The ship awaits three hands to proceed.

Non-Arrival of the Damascus.

PORTLAND, Sunday, Jan. 24—Midnight.

There are no signs of the steamship Damascus. Wind southwest; passing clouds.

Markets.

ALBANY, Saturday, Jan. 23.

The market for BEEVES is active, the supply being unusually large, owing to the detention of trains on the Great Western Railroad. Prices have advanced 25c. ₱ 100 lbs. live weight. Receipts, 2,656. SHEEP in light receipt and active request at 6¾c.@7¾c. ₱ lb. Receipts, 3,000. Hogs scarce; sales were made at 7c.@7½c. ₱ lb., according to quality and weight.

Enlistment of Colored Troops in Kentucky—Executive Order.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, FRANKFORT, Jan. 13, 1864.

Brig.-Gen. J. T. Boyle, Commanding District of Kentucky, Louisville, Ky:

DEAR SIR: The letter referred by you to me from "H. BARNS, Colonel First Michigan Colored regiment," requesting your aid to "Capt. W. A. McCLELLAND" in his recruiting mission to Kentucky for the "First Michigan Colored regiment," is before me.

Furnish the Colonel and his recruiting Captain with a copy of my reply to a similar request made by "Capt. EDWARD CAHILL, recruiting colored troops," and also with a copy of this letter.

No such recruiting will be tolerated here. Summary justice will be inflicted upon any who attempt such unlawful purpose.

"Negro traders" have ever been held in disrepute in the Slave States, and only tolerated as we tolerate the vulture tribe, because they rid us of the vicious and worthless slave population.

But, under pretence of loyalty, a class of "traffickers in human flesh" have started up, far more contemptible for their hypocritical pretensions to loyalty, and more despicable because of the meanness of their motives,—men who, to make profit to themselves, engage in enticing slaves and free negroes to enlist, that they may "sell them" as substitutes, obtaining the large bounties offered in States not willing to furnish of their own population the call made upon their loyalty for volunteers by our Government.

Such "traffickers in human flesh" will endanger their own liberties if they are caught within this State.

Your action is in accordance with the laws of the State, the purposes as we are assured of the Federal authorities, and my approving judgment.

Respectfully, THOS. E. BRAMLETTE, Governor of Kentucky.

DEAFNESS

NOISES IN THE HEAD,

Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,

CATARRH CURED

BY

DR. VON EISENBERG,

AT HIS CONSULTING ROOMS,

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., NEW-YORK, Oct. 1, 1863.

Dr. Von Eisenberg:

DEAR SIR: Without recapitulating the numerous benefits I have received through your wonderful cure of the deafness I have labored under many years, the blessings I enjoy will convince the most skeptical.

I have tried many aurists, in Europe and America, without success. I was still deaf as a post.

Three years ago I entered your office, underwent one operation, hoping, yet doubting, I should receive any relief, but was agreeably disappointed in finding the genius of your profession.

The innate skill you possess cured my deafness in one almost painless operation.

The joy I experienced was indescribable; 'twas a new life to me.

My hearing is perfect to this day.

I strongly advise all who are suffering under a difficulty of hearing, or total deafness, to consult you immediately, as I also personally recommend all who apply to me. The numerous calls trespass on my time and patience, yet, remembering my own long, weary affliction, causes me to pity them.

This is not written to advertise your well-known, unrivaled reputation—that would be peurile; but as a measure of precaution, to induce all to call on you at once, without troubling me; yet I do not refuse to see any one who comes to me. This is the only way I can show my gratitude.

I also call the attention of those who are suffering from Catarrh, which disease I have labored under one year or more.

I experienced difficulty in breathing, langour, heaviness over the eyes, a sense of tightness on the brain, and copious expectorations of a hard and viscid nature. Accompanying this is a "polypus," quite filling the right nostril. On the 25th ult. you operated on both, killing the polypus, which is gradually passing away, and giving me great relief from the Catarrh. One more operation will effectually cure.

This testimonial brings with it my unalloyed and grateful thanks, with but a poor delineation of your wondrous skill as an Aurist.

I am, Sir, yours very gratefully,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.
